ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1910.--TEN PAGES. PRICE TWO CENTS.

THE INS AND OUTS OF IT.

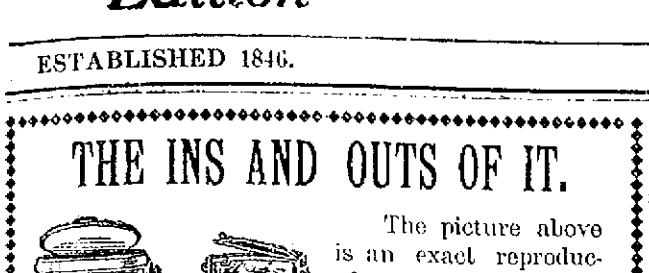

The picture above is an exact reproduction of an ideal white enameled sanitary refrigerator with solid brass trimmings. Not a bit of wood about it to swell, warp, shrink or decay. Cylindrical in shape and no corners for the accumulation of dirt. Revolving shelves of electrically welded wire. A great ice saver.

HANDSOME, DURABLE, ECONOMICAL SANITARY.

Easy to move from room to room because mounted on roller-bearing casters. You can appropriately apply to it that old saying "Handsome Is As Handsome Does" because it is the most economical enameled ice chest ever offered for sale.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP NEARING AN END.

Welcome Will Be Same, Regardless of Weather.

Strict Guard to Be Kept Over Him Moment by Moment.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is today nearing New York, where a welcomers demonstration awaits him tomorrow on his return form foreign lands. A wireless despatch from steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, with Colonel Roosevelt and his family on board, stated that the liner was 133 miles east of Ambrose Channel Lightship at 3 a. m., which under ordinary conditions would bring the steamship off Sandy Hook at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Weather conditions for the welcoming seemed dubious indeed this morning. A milky fog, which fairly screened the bay, and a shameless drizzle made New York a sodden spot, but the weather man held a little prospect of clearing. Fog at sea may delay the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, but as the program does not call for the steamship to be in Quarantine until 9 o'clock Captain Ruser has some leeway as to time.

"There will be no postponement of any of tomorrow's program on account of fog, rain or anything else in the weather line if the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria gets in on time," was the statement made by the reception committee today.

All preparations for the former President's welcome have been completed. When the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria drops anchor off Quarantine Colonel Roosevelt and his family will go on board revenue cutter Manhattan for breakfast, after which they will be transferred to the larger cutter Androscoggin, which will lead the water parade up the Hudson river and back to the Battery, where Mayor Gaynor will welcome the returning hunter. The exercises at the Battery will be brief, and will be followed by a parade up Broadway, visiting organizations filing the east side. Colonel Roosevelt will go to his home in Oyster Bay late in the afternoon.

All incoming trains brought large numbers of visitors to the city today to take part in the celebration.

The weather bureau this morning made the following local forecast: "Showers this afternoon. Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Warmer Saturday. Light to moderate, variable winds, becoming westerly."

Shortly after noon the weather showed signs of clearing, making the outlook for tomorrow's festivities better. Hundreds of decorators were expected to start work this afternoon if the weather continued clear.

The ex-President's wife and children will occupy a private box at the Battery while the speeches are being made. The box will be in front of the grand stand, which will be directly opposite a small platform which will be occupied only by Colonel Roosevelt and Mayor Gaynor.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce of Columbus, Ohio, has arrived here to present to Colonel Roosevelt a golden arch, as a gift from the people of Columbus, and invite him to visit the Columbus Industrial exposition July 4.

Roosevelt will be guarded during the celebration of his homecoming as carefully as if he were still in the White House. From the time he leaves the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria at Quarantine he will be guarded moment by moment by the keenest detectives on the force. Inspector Russell, head of the detective bureau, will take personal charge of his men. Police Commissioner Baker today assigned 16 inspectors, 48 captains, 127 lieutenants, 770 sergeants, 4,100 patrolmen and 20 surgeons to duty for the land parade. Another force in police boats will watch the water parade. The chief work of the police will be to keep the crowds in order, but they will also look to the protection of all out-of-town visitors.

Four hundred detectives began to scour the city last night for every crook they could recognize. All these gathered in will be under lock and key until the celebration is over. To look after those who have slipped through the drag-net other hundreds of detectives will be constantly circulating through the flies on the sidewalks during the parade.

The national volunteer emergency service, of which General E. S. Davis is at the head, will look after hospital arrangements. If the day is hot the scores of surgeons and nurses are sure to have their hands full caring for cases of heat prostration. There will be ten land stations along the line of march from the Battery to Central Park and Fifth avenue, and a hospital boat with a station off Staten Island will follow the river parade. Hospital tents and ambulances will dot the streets wherever the press is thickest.

All the big hotels report large advance reservations of rooms for tonight and tomorrow, but it is thought they will easily be able to care for all their guests, as the bulk of the visiting crowds will naturally be recruited from near-by towns.

Mr. Roosevelt's children now in this country and his relatives who are going to meet him will sacrifice several hours of sleep for the sake of being the first to greet the wayfarer. Revenue cutter Manhattan will take them to Quarantine and the hour, not yet determined, depends on the time when the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria enters the harbor. In all probability they must rise before dawn.

Rear Admiral Leutz, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, will command the warships detailed to the naval parade. They will lead the line, with the South Carolina in advance, followed by five torpedo boat destroyers, four revenue cutters and four police boats. Then will come, in 12 divisions, the fleet of chartered steamers reserved by clubs from all over the country, and the excursion steamers plying for chance fares.

MAY BE DELAYED BY FOG.

Roosevelt Should Be Off Sandy Hook at Seven o'Clock in Morning.

KAISERIN AUGUSTE VICTORIA, by Marconi wireless to Siasconset, Mass., June 17.—This steamer, which is carrying among its passengers form-

LATEST NAVAL NEWS.

Orders of Officers and Movements of Vessels Reported.

[Special despatch to the News.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The following orders to officers were announced by the Navy Department today:

Commander J. Hood, ordered to attend the conference of officers at the Naval War College.

Chief Boatswain F. R. Hazard, ordered to the Chaguana.

Chief Gunner F. C. Messenkop, detached from the Mohican and General Alava and ordered home and to wait orders.

Chief Carpenter E. W. Smith, detached from the Tacoma and ordered to the naval hospital, navy yard, New York, for treatment.

Chief Carpenter O. Berta, detached from the California and ordered to the naval hospital, Mare Island, for treatment.

Carpenter C. R Barr, detached from the Hancock and ordered to the Tacoma.

Carpenter H. Duthie, detached from the Independence and ordered to the California.

The following movements of naval vessels were reported today to the department:

Arrived—Sylph at New York, Abarenda at Newport News, Wolverine at Michigan City, Supply at Nagasaki.

Sailed—South Carolina, from Norfolk for New York; Stringham, Sebago and Foote, from Southport for Charleston; Yorktown, from San Francisco for Astoria; Prairie, from Critobal for Bluefields; Grampus, Pike, Fortune and Justin, from San Francisco for Capitola; Scorpion, from Perasus for Constantinople; New York, from Piraeus for Alexandria.

Lord.

NAVAL VESSELS ARRIVING.

South Carolina and Torpedo Boat Destroyers Anchor at New York.

NEW YORK June 17.—Battleship South Carolina, which will lead the line of warships in tomorrow's Roosevelt celebration naval parade, arrived off the Highlands from Newport News this morning. Torpedo boat destroyers Smith, Flusser, Lamson, Reid and Preston, which will follow the South Carolina in the marine procession, came in from Newport News and anchored in Sandy Hook bay.

COMMANDER PEARY RETURNS.

Says Traveling in Europe as He Did Was Harder Than Arctic Trip.

NEW YORK, June 17.—"Traveling in Europe as I had to travel is harder in some respects than Arctic exploration," said Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, today, as he landed from steamer Mauretania after a trip to Great Britain and the Continent, where honors were showered on him on all sides, in recognition of his achievement.

Commander Peary admitted that he was pretty well tired out. "My trip gave me very little idea of what Europe is like," he said, as he stepped ashore, accompanied by Mrs. Peary and his son, Robert E. Peary, jr., and his daughter, Marie. "The hurry of it all was extremely tiring," he went on. "It was one constant round of lecturing, hurrying to trains, attending receptions, lecturing, again and again hurrying on, until, what with the constant travel and enforced change of diet, I came to the conclusion that journeying in the Arctic is little more tiring and in some respects less unpleasant.

Mr. Peary modestly recounted some of his experiences, and told of the medals he had received in London, Berlin, Rome, Vienna, Budapest, Edinburgh, Brussels and Antwerp, besides other honors from various societies whose recognition he prizes highly. Commander Peary said that his plans for the near future include a stay in New York city of two days, following which he will go to Bowdoin College, his alma mater, to be the recipient of honors and to deliver an address. Then he will go home to Eagle Island, Maine, for a rest of two months, which the commander says he feels he greatly needs. Whatever plans may be made for his future movements, he says, will have to develop during that rest period, as he has determined to give no thought to them at present.

FOR A DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

House Committee to Report Bill Carrying a Seat in the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The House committee on labor today decided to report favorably a bill creating a department of labor, with a seat in the President's cabinet.

SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY.

Scott Anti-Option Bill Expected to Be Considered Then.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—It is expected now that the Scott anti-option bill, prohibiting futures transactions in cotton exchanges, will be called up in the house next Tuesday. Today the conference report on the railroad bill was expected to have right of way, and many of the members of the House will be away Saturday to attend the Roosevelt home-coming in New York. Monday is suspension day.

Representative Fitzgerald's amendment to extend the provision to all futures transactions, instead of confining the inhibition to cotton dealings in futures, will add the words "and grain and other farm products" wherever the bill refers to cotton.

STEAMERS REPORTED.

SIASCONSET, Mass., June 17.—La Lorraine, Havre for New York, was 402 miles east of Sandy Hook at 5 a. m.; will dock about 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

SIASCONSET, Mass., June 17.—Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, Hamburg, Southampton and Cherbourg for New York, was reported 533 miles east of Sandy Hook at 6 a. m., due at Ambrose Channel lightship about 7 a. m. Saturday.

CAPE RACE, Newfoundland, June 17.—Chicago, Havre for New York, was 1,462 miles east of Sandy Hook at 11:30 p. m. June 16; will dock about 7:30 a. m. Monday.

CAPE RACE, Newfoundland, June 17.—Rotterdam, Rotterdam and Boulogne for New York was 1,198 miles east of Sandy Hook at 12:05 a. m.; will dock about 7:30 a. m. Monday.

MEDIATION SAID TO HAVE FAILED.

Ecuador Believed to Have Qualified Its Consent.

Rumors That Powers Were Unsuccessful Gain Credence.

LIMA, Peru, June 17.—It was rumored today that the attempted mediation between Peru and Ecuador has failed, owing to the conditions imposed by Ecuador as a basis for the peace negotiations.

Both countries began several days ago the withdrawal from the frontier of the troops which had been massed when an outbreak of hostilities was believed to be imminent. The withdrawal was in accordance with the insistence of the mediating powers when the United States, Brazil and Argentina undertook to act jointly in arbitrating the boundary dispute between the two republics, which, it seemed obvious, would be otherwise settled only by war.

Nevertheless, vague reports that Ecuador had qualified its consent to mediation have been circulated here, until now they appear to be gaining credence.

FIGHT TO GO TO GOLDFIELD.

Jeffries-Johnson Promoters are Guaranteed $120,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—"Tex" Richard announced today to the Associated Press, on receipts of a telegram from from Morris Sullivan of Goldfield, Nev., that the Jeffries-Johnson fight will be held there July 4. Sullivan guaranteed $120,000 to the promoters.

"Sullivan is an old friend of mine, and absolutely dependable," says Richard. "The fight will go to Goldfield unless a much better offer should come form some other Nevada city, which is hardly likely."

BUNKER HILL DAY.

Celebration Not So Elaborate as Usual, but "Open House" Prevails.

BOSTON, June 17.—Lessened in ardor and enthusiasm by the prohibiting of noise-making with firearms and fire-crackers, and dampened by a drizzling rain, the celebration of the one hundred and thirty-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill in Charlestown today was not so elaborate as those of recent years.

The day was ushered in by several bonfires shortly after midnight, and at sunrise the cannon at the Charlestown navy yard boomed out a salute. This forenoon the veteran firemen paraded through the streets and over Bunker Hill, and later in the day held a muster on the Sullivan square playground.

"Open house" prevailed throughout the district. Historical societies observed the day by doing honor to the memory of the past. Bunker Hill monument was decorated with the Stars and Stripes flying from its topmost windows. The celebration will come to a close with band concerts and fireworks in the evening.

NEW DEAN AT RADCLIFFE.

Miss Mary Coes, Now Secretary of the College, Elected.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass, June 17.—The election of Miss Mary Coes, secretary of Radcliffe College, as dean of that institution in place of Miss Agnes Irwin, who resigned a year ago, was announced today.

NEW COLLECTORS OF CUSTOMS.

Charles Barbour Appointed at Bristol and John Bogell at Castine.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Charles C. Barbour has been appointed collector of customs at Bristol, R. I., and John M. Bogell has been appointed to a similar position at Castine, Maine.

CANNOT COME FOR A YEAR.

Boston University Disappointed at Dr. Benton's Decision.

BOSTON, June 17.—The trustees and alumni of Boston University were considerably disappointed today on learning that Dr. Guy Potter Benton of Miami University had declined to become president of the local institution—at least, for a year. In a despatch received today Dr. Benton stated that he must stay in Miami another year, but that the board of that institution had given him the privilege of a year in which to investigate.

It is expected that Dr. William E. Huntington, the present head of Boston University, will be asked to remain in office for the year, notwithstanding the fact that his resignation has been accepted.

A BOMB AMONG GENDARMES.

One Killed, Others Mortally Wounded in Polish Railway Station.

WILNAW, Russian Poland, June 17.—A bomb was exploded with fatal results in a squad of gendarmes at the Gordzisk station on the Vienna railroad, 30 miles from here today. One of the gendarmes was killed outright, four received mortal wounds and their chief was slightly injured. The bomb thrower was arrested. An attempt is made by the authorities to connect today's violence with that at Radom, when Colonel Wenssatsk of the gendarmes was shot and killed by a policeman. On that occasion the assassin and an accomplice committed suicide on the spot.

Half-Price Corset Sale

300 Pairs of "PN" Two Dollar Corsets for This Special Sale

—AT—

$1.00.

The manufacturers of this well-known make of corsets use this method of advertising, instead of paying high rates in magazine advertising, by selling to the leading store of each city twice a year (spring and fall) a limited quantity of their latest production at half price, with the understanding that they must be sold also at half price.

Now and as before we were fortunate in being selected for Newport as THE STORE to retail 300 pairs of $2.00 "PN" Corsets at only $1.00.

These corsets are made of batiste (suitable for summer wear) heavily boned, of the newest model long skirt effect, with rich lace trimming on top and four strong elastic webbing hose supporters attached. These same corsets at any other time would sell for $2.00, while this lot lasts at half price, only $1.00.

Call early, so as not to be disappointed in getting your proper size, as we positively cannot duplicate them at this special low price.

The HESS-LEYS CO

TWO NEW STATES.

Senate Passes the New Mexico and Arizona Bill

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The Senate passed today, without a dissenting vote, the bill to add two new stars to the flag by the admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states. Only a little more than two hours was consumed in the debate on the measure, which had been allowed to sleep on the Senate calendar almost three months, and was reached today only by Senator Elkins agreeing to relegate the railroad bill to the rear for the time being.

It has been said that the passage of the statehood bill would be the price which numerous Senators would demand for support of the President's proposed railroad legislation. Today's developments would seem to indicate that some such arrangement had been made and was working out just as the leaders intended.

The statehood measure was called up by Senator Beveridge, chairman of the committee on territories, on the conclusion of the routine business of the day and was passed after speeches by Senators Beveridge, Frazier, Nelson, Hughes and Smoot. All the speeches were favorable to the creation of the two states, but the Democrats favored the House bill.

When the vote was reached there was a division on the Senate substitute for the House bill, but with that amendment accepted the Senate voted solidly for the passage of the bill. The Senate substitute was adopted as an amendment to the House measure by a strictly party vote of 42 to 33.

As passed, the bill would provide for the admission as states of the two territories, but not until after a constitution had been adopted by each of them approved by the President and ratified by Congress.

MOODY DISCOURAGED.

Says It Would Not Be Proper for Him to Discuss Lodge's Bill.

BOSTON, June 16.—When informed today of the bill for his retirement, Justice William H. Moody of the Supreme Court said: "I do not feel in a spirit to discuss any physical state, and it would not be proper for me to discuss Senator Lodge's bill."

To an intimate friend who called to see him yesterday Justice Moody said: "My improvement has not been as rapid as I had hoped for, and I am somewhat discouraged at the outlook."

Dr. William A. Brooks, who lately assumed charge of the case, said: "The time that I have been in charge of Justice Moody's case has been too brief for me to have made a thorough study of it, but from my investigation thus far I am hopeful that he will show improvement soon."

GUTHRIE TO REMAIN CAPITAL.

GUTHRIE, Okla., June 16.—Judge A. H. Huston, in the country district court here today, overruled the demurrer of Governor Haskell to the petition of County Attorney Hoyburn for an injunction preventing the removal of the capital from Guthrie to Oklahoma City. A temporary injunction of last Monday was continued in force until further orders.

The court held that the enabling act was valid, imposing the condition that the capital should remain in Guthrie until 1913; that the court had jurisdiction over the person of the governor in matters where he had no discretion, and that the county attorney had the power to file application for an injunction. The decision differed from Attorney General West on all points.

TO INCREASE ENGINEER CORPS.

House Bill Reported to Senate ..from Military Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The House bill to increase the engineer corps of the army, which carries a provision which would permit the President to supersede with an army engineer Director F. H. Newell of the reclamation service, was reported to the Senate today from the committee on military affairs. A minority report will be filed by Senator Dixon.

THE BRIDE FOR LORIMER.

Evidence Admitted After Judge Overrules Fourteen Objections.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Fourteen objections by the defense against the admission of the testimony of State Representatives Myers, Link and Beckemeyer in the trial of Lee O'Neill Browne for bribery were overruled by Judge McSurely today after five hours argument. This permitted the first corroborative evidence in support of the statement by Representative Charles A. White that he received $1,000 from Browne for voting for William Lorimer for United States Senator.

Myers's testimony today was in effect that Brown called him aside on the day of the election of Lorimer and asked for his vote, saying there were lots of jobs and plenty of the "ready" for those voting for Lorimer.

Representative R. J. C. Beckemeyer of Carlyle, Ill., corroborated White in every material point.

COMPROMISE ARRANGED.

Agreement Reached with Opposition for Conference on Lords' Veto.

LONDON, June 16.—The prime minister, Mr. Asquith, and A. J. Balfour, the leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, have held several important meetings during the week and an agreement between them has been reached with reference to holding a conference on the question of the veto of the House of Lords.

The conferees will probably be the prime minister, the Earl of Crewe, Chancellor Lloyd-George and Augustine Birrell, representing the government, and Mr. Balfour, Lord Lansdowne and Austin Chamberlain, in behalf of the opposition. It is expected that the conference will assemble in a day or two.

LIEUTENANT MOUNTFORD'S MARRIAGE.

The marriage of Second Lieutenant Frederick A. Mountford, coast artillery corps stationed at Fort Adams, and Miss Lillian Bailey of East Liverpool, Ohio, took place Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church in East Liverpool. Lieutenant Mountford was graduated from the United States Military Academy in June, 1909, assigned to the coast artillery corps, and has been on duty at Fort Adams with the Ninety-seventh company since last summer. He will bring his bride here after a leave of absence.

NO water in the world equals the celebrated Clicquot Spring water for making soft drinks. Chemists testify to this. Coming from deep rock, it contributes largely to the famous goodness and purity of CLICQUOT CLUB Ginger Ale.

No other water will combine so perfectly with Jamaica ginger or result in so good a ginger ale. No other water in the world will take carbonic gas so readily or retain it so well.

Because of this superior water and because the ginger, sugar and fruit flavors in Clicquot are the best, Clicquot Club is as good a year after it is made as the day it is bottled. It is as palatable too, as it is wholesome and refreshing and it is non-astringent.

Mrs. Barton Ballou Entertains at Her Home at Bristol Ferry—Funeral of Maud Davol.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

In response to cards of invitation issued by Mrs. Barton A. Ballou of Bristol Ferry about 50 responded, the greater number being members of the Rhode Island Woman Suffrage Association and the state branch of the College Equal Suffrage League. Aboard 35 came by the Providence trolley line and the remainder from Portsmouth and Tiverton. Although the day was showery the spacious piazza was so well shielded with vines and roses that it formed an ideal place for luncheon after the house and its belongings, and the extensive view of the water from its four sides, had been enjoyed. Smelts and lobsters were furnished and after the substantial part of the luncheon had disappeared, all were served with strawberries and cream. The berries, very large and fine, were raised for the use of the family on Mr. Ballou's grounds. In the dining room tea and coffee were served by Miss Cora Mitchell, Mrs. G. M. Eldredge, Mrs. Robert Gidley of Providence and Mrs. Walter B. Chase. The interior of the house had been profusely decorated with laurel and vines and looked attractive.

At 2:30 the company adjourned to the Social Studio and was called to order by Miss Elizabeth Upham Yates, president of the Rhode Island Woman Suffrage Association, who made a witty and pleasing speech after which she introduced Mrs. Albert C. Rider, wife of the editor of the Providence Tribune and herself connected with the Tribune, who read an interesting account of her recent trip to the tenth biennial of the Federation of Women's Clubs at Cincinnati, noting the suffrage movement as demonstrated in that vast concourse of women.

Miss Yates extended a welcome to the visiting suffragists (no suffragettes among them). She said the greatest foes to woman suffrage are the liquor traffic and allied forces, and that the only way to secure legislative reform is by the ballot. Mrs. Barlingame Cluney, a veteran temperance worker, said that 23 years ago 9,000 men in Rhode Island voted for woman suffrage.

At the annual state meeting in October it is expected that Professor Nash of Cambridge will be the principal speaker. The Elizabeth Chase prize given for the best essay on the suffrage question, was won by Miss Morrison, daughter of Dr. Morrison of Providence, and she will read it at the annual meeting.

Miss Marjorie Hicks gave a piano solo, "Moment Musical," Moskowski, and a whistling solo, "Love Affair," and Miss May Malone gave two songs, "Anchored," Michael Watson, and "Garden of Roses," Johann C. Schmid.

Thanks were voted to Mrs. Ballou, Mrs. Ryder and the musicians; also by five of the party to Mr. Ballou, who gave them great pleasure by taking them home in his automobile. So pleasantly was every minute of the time spent that the unpleasant weather was given but little thought.

The funeral of Maud Davol, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Davol, took place Thursday from Rev. John Wadsworth of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who had charge of the service, read an appropriate Scripture lesson, offered prayer and made brief remarks. A quartet, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Ashley and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brayton, sang "Take to Mee" and her schoolmates sang "One Sweet Flower." There were many beautiful flowers, among them loves from the Sunday School and bouquets of pink roses, white pinks and other flowers from the family and her young friends. As the funeral procession passed the schoolhouse, the grammar school pupils, of whom she had been one, formed in procession, then the intermediate, and lastly the primary, headed by their respective teachers. At the grave they united in singing "Farewell." The bearers were Lester Sherman, Henry Scheller, Antone Fontaine and Andrew Mattie.

The Ladies' Association of St. Paul's Church met at the guild house, Thursday afternoon. At the business meeting it was decided to hold the annual lawn party July 20 and the following committees were appointed: Supper, Miss Grace Hicks, Mrs. Oliver G. Hicks, Mrs. John M. Eldredge; cake, Mrs. John L. Borden, Mrs. Oliver G. Hicks, Mrs. Edward R. Anthony, Mrs. William B. Clarke; advertising, Mr. B. Earl Anthony; apron table, Mrs. B. C. Sherman. Supper was served to about 50 by the committee—Mrs. Constant C. Chase, Mrs. Emma Hicks and Mrs. Letitia Lawton—and was of cold ham, rolls, coffee, cake, strawberries and cream. The centre of the table had a beautiful floral piece of white roses and daisies, the work of Mrs. Letitia Lawton.

Richard Duckworth and his son Kay returned to Portsmouth Thursday and gave themselves up to the officers. The elder was put on a $1,000 bond to appear in court and an Island Park man went bond for him.

Miss Flora Phinney closes her school at Hazard's Bay today and after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Lucy M. Phinney, will go to Martha's Vineyard to act as postmistress in the West Tisbury postoffice, the same as last summer. In the fall she will take a school in Pocasset, her home when a child.

Mr. Colby C. Mitchel, who spends a greater part of the year in Paris, France, left Portsmouth last October, returned from abroad this week and will spend the summer with his sister, Mrs. May, at Bristol Ferry. Mr. Lewis May of Brooklyn, N. Y., and child will return home in a few days straight, having been spending a most month in motoring through Scotland and the Continent. His wife, Mrs. Miller, and her husband, Mr. Miller, the artist with their son Wallace, are now located in Holland. Mr. Miller is busy with his work. As they return to this country every other summer, they will not be here this year.

MUSICAL PROGRAM A FEATURE.

Plans for Miss Alexander's Wedding—Slight Change in Mr. Roosevelt's Attendants.

Music will be a feature at the marriage of Miss Eleanor B. Alexander to Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., which will be celebrated Monday afternoon at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York. There was a rehearsal of the wedding Thursday afternoon in the church, and Mr. Nahan Franko had an orchestra of 40 men to render the wedding music. The time honored bridal music from "Lohengrin" will be played for the procession, and the wedding march from Mendelssohn's setting to "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be played as the party leaves the church. Prior to the ceremony there will be an orchestral concert. The selection for this was chosen by Miss Alexander, who is a proficient violinist. There will be compositions of Dvorak, Charpentier, Massenet, Tschaikowsky Handel, Saint-Saens and Schumann.

Alexander's attendants will be Miss Gowden A. Fahnestock, Misses Roosevelt, Harriet and Jannetta Alexander, Jean W. Delano and Jessie Ogden Drake.

There will be a slight change in Mr. Roosevelt's attendants. Mr. E. Du Pont Irving will not be able to act as best man, owing to the recent death of his father, Mr. A. Duer Irving, and his place will be taken by Mr. Kermit Roosevelt. The ushers will be Messrs. George Emlen Roosevelt, Monroe Douglas Robinson, Francis Roche, Hamilton Fish, Jr., Fulton Cutting, John W. Cutler, Grafton Chapman, Elliot Cutler and E. Morgan Gilbert. There will be no substitute for Mr. Kermit Roosevelt, who was to have been one of the ushers.

Miss Alexander will enter the church with her mother, by whom she will be given away. The rehearsal was not complete yesterday, as Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Mr. Kermit Roosevelt are on the ocean.

CHANNING CONFEDERATION OF YOUNG PEOPLE.

Saturday the Channing Confederation of Young People will visit Newport, arriving about 1 o'clock. About 125 are expected, and they will go to the Channing parlors, where a basket lunch will be had and ice cream, cake and coffee served. After luncheon the party will go to the church and listen to an address by Rev. William Safford Jones, and will leave Newport at 3:30. The Channing Guild has been invited to sail back with the party as far as Fall River. Rev. George W. Kent of Providence, Rev. Joel H. Metcalf of Taunton and Rev. Mr. Lay of Fall River are expected to be with the young people.

When I consider Life and I its few years—
A wisp of fog betwixt us and the sun;
A call to battle, and the battle done
Ere the last echo dies within our ears;
A ship checked in the grasp; an hour of fears;
The gusts that past a darkening shore do beat;
The burst of music down an unlistening street—
I weep at the fillyness of tears.
Ye old, old dead, and ye of yesternight,
Chieftains and birds and keepers of the sheep,
By every cup of sorrow that you had
Loose me from fears, and make me see aright
How each hath back what once he prayed to weep;
Hector his sight, David his little lad!

FANCIES.

"Quite a large sign there, 'Post No Bills.'"

"So it is. I wish my father could see it."—[Birmingham Age-Herald.

"Tell me what a man eats and I'll tell you what he is."

"That's a lie! I've eaten fish every Friday all me life an' I can't swim a stroke!"—[Cleveland Leader.

"Did you tell the exact truth when the census taker asked your age?" asked Maude.

"I did," answered Mayme. "I told him he was wasting his time asking foolish questions."—[Washington Star.

Watts—So your father-in-law insists on your going to work, eh? What did he say to you?

Potts—He told me I must find something to do besides loan.—[Boston Transcript.

Country Vicar (visiting a family where a child has scarlet fever)—I suppose you keep him well isolated?

"Lor' bless you, sir, yes. He keeps behind that clothes horse and don't come among us but for meals."—[Punch.

"Say," asked the first messenger boy, "got any novels for swap?"

"I got 'Big Foot Bill's Revenge,'" replied the other.

"Is it a long story?"

"Naw! yo kin finish it easy in two messages."—[Catholic Standard and Times.

"Yo' isn't stopped at de Palace Hotel lately is yo,' boss?" inquired the colored man who was piloting a just-arrived traveler from the railway station to the hostelry.

"No. But what makes you sure of it?"

"Uh-kase yo' gwine dar now, sah."—[Puck.

Artemis (gazing into the crystal)—I see rolling downs—crowds—police—horses. They are racing. The horses round the bend—the jockeys lash them. They near the post—two head neck and neck—a dead heat—no—one of them is/she ahead and wins.

Client—Yes, yes, but which? What are the winner's colors?

Artemis—Alas, I cannot tell you! I am color-blind!—[Punch.

CALIFORNIA'S MORAL SENSE.

The appeal to California's moral sense, as embodied in her governor, not only failed but was treated with scant respect. Churches, religious associations and clergymen appealed to Governor Gillett to prevent the great prize fight, but produced no impression. The governor said he had no authority to interfere, and said it in a way which conveyed the impression that he had no disposition to interfere; that he saw nothing the matter with the prize fight. It is only a few weeks since he said rather impatiently that the church people might as well stop sending petitions and postal cards to him—probably these had become a good deal of a bore—as he should do nothing to interfere with the fight.

Suddenly he startles the entire sporting world by directing his attorney general to take steps to prevent the fight. What has happened to his moral sense, or to the moral sense of his state? Probably nothing at all. There is no intimation that he is any more impressed by the representations of the clergy than he was a few weeks ago, but an appeal has been made to the business sense of California. There are possibilities of another world's fair, and the business men of California have been made to understand that Congress has no disposition to offer a prize fight as one of the features of an exposition which all foreign nations will be invited to visit. California has been informed that it cannot have the prize fight and a world's fair patronized by the United States government; that this country will not invite foreign nations to come to a show in San Francisco and associate with the element which would be drawn to the Golden Gate by the occurrence of the prize fight.

The Mormon city of Salt Lake or a Colorado mining camp may have the prize fight; neither is asking the federal government to invite the rest of the world to a party. San Francisco, while deaf to moral appeals, is not indifferent to business, and if it can't have both a prize fight and a world's fair it will take the latter. That is evidence that it is making some progress.

WHEN IS A TRUST NOT A TRUST?

Missouri is trying to drive the harvester combination out of the state as a trust, an unlawful combination in restraint of trade. The defense is that it manufactures only 15 or 20 per cent of the agricultural implements, and only in mowers and harvesters does it manufacture any large proportion of the articles sold, but it is only in mowers and harvesters that it is supposed to have accomplished a monopoly. Its monopoly as a manufacturer of these things is not in the least affected by the fact that it makes few hoes, rakes or scythes. It probably makes none of these, but 85 per cent is a moderate estimate of the part of the mowers and reapers sold in this country which it makes.

If it makes 85 per cent of these machines it is practically a monopoly. The few independent concerns would sell at prices, or just below the prices, of the trust, but they would exercise no influence on the trade to which the trust would be obliged to pay attention. There is no doubt that the entire purpose of the Sherman law, enacted 20 years ago, was to prevent just such combinations as this, and yet the fact is that every industrial combination with an exception or two has been formed since that law was passed.

Apparently there is no way of preventing these combinations though something depends upon cases now pending in the Supreme Court. If it is impossible to prevent the suppression of competition in manufacturing, what assurance have the consumers that they will not be obliged to pay unreasonable prices? Is it possible to substitute any sort of regulation for the obsolete force of competition? These are questions to be answered in the future.

The harvester trust would undoubtedly say that the combination merely economized on manufacturing processes and the cost of selling agencies, but there isn't much doubt that the main purpose of these combinations is to maintain prices at levels from which competition would be likely to dislodge them.

THE NEW SOCIALISM.

The spirit of socialism is so thoroughly in the air that there are many men in this country who are really socialists without knowing it—that is to say, they believe in principles which are of a socialistic character without realizing that they are of that nature. The atmosphere of thought has become so saturated with these doctrines and ideas that they have been absorbed naturally and unconsciously by many who are unaware that they have become exponents of the same principles entertained by the socialists and are entitled to be called by that name themselves. Probably not a few of these new and unconscious converts to these beliefs would recoil with something akin to horror if they should be called socialists, but there is no need for such a feeling at the change which has been wrought so quietly in their thought and conceptions of matters relating to the social conditions of the country and the people. The new socialism and the new socialists are quite different from the old. There is no longer a feeling among them that the changes desired must come by the sword, by fire or by the bomb, and there is no longer possible an identification of the socialist with the anarchist.

The new socialism is simply the natural and practically inevitable adaptation of the conditions of social life to the wants and welfare of the people by the most natural and least inflammatory methods which can be devised, and the new socialist is merely a citizen who is eager for the realization of the best things for mankind by whatever process they can be secured which works best for the interests of the whole body of the people. The new socialism has come to be accepted so gradually and so widely that it is difficult for many, even when their attention is called to the subject to realize that the theories held and the ideas entertained are of such a kind as to merit the title of socialistic, and the new socialist has been developed so easily and quietly from the man of conservative thought and purpose that it is hard for both him and his associates to appreciate the fact that he has been actually converted into a socialist.

This prevalence and growth of socialism is by no means confined to this country, but on the contrary is spreading far more rapidly and widely elsewhere. Today there is hardly a nation in all Europe which is not permeated with this new spirit, and in many countries it has advanced so far that men of socialistic beliefs are occupying conspicuous positions in official and administrative life. It is another evidence of the extent to which this new attitude toward socialism has gained ascendancy that there is absolutely no fear because these men are in government positions and no stir over their election or their administration. The time has come to a large extent abroad, and will soon become still more evident, when socialism will mean no more in politics than any other more or less indefinite term such as Republican, Democrat, Liberal or Conservative. It will be simply the name of a party and not the designation of a class of revolutionists, and there will be no more to be feared from a government of socialists than from one by any other political party.

That time has not fully come in this country as yet, but it is on the way and is sure to arrive not long hence. At present socialism and the socialist are still looked at askance, but a strong indication of what is coming is found in the fact that not a few of those who balk at the name have really accepted the thing and are hugging it as a new idea which promises much for the future welfare of the people. When these persons have awakened to the realization of the fact that they are themselves believers in the doctrines of those whom they think they distrust, and that the thing which they are cherishing is really socialism though they failed to recognize it, the old feeling toward that phase of political and economic thought will pass away and it will be realized that what they have been fearing was only a bugaboo and what they have been condemning they have assimilated into their own thought and belief. The new socialism is gaining ground every day all over the civilized world, and new socialists are being born every hour in all lands.

Newport must bestir herself if she is to retain the engineer office, and it would be well to start a movement among the business men to prevent its removal to Providence. The city cannot afford to sit idly by, content with it possession of a desirable office in its midst, but with efforts are made to transfer the engineer department elsewhere should exist all the influence possible to retain its possession. With Senator Wetmore and Congressman Sheffield in Washington to urge the claims of Newport there is little doubt of favorable action, but these officials should have the substantial backing of the citizens and business men of Newport if they are to be expected to work with any prospects of success.

There will be no lack of opportunity for ex-President Roosevelt to find work in almost any capacity. The latest offer is that of the presidency of the National Trades and Workers' Association, which is described as a labor union with headquarters in Battle Creek, and which does not countenance strikes, boycotts, pickets, lockouts of any form of coercion. C. W. Post of Battle Creek, who is in New York with the offer of the presidency in his pocket, says: "I believe the cause of industrial freedom for which this organization stands is a great one, and I am willing personally to pay Colonel Roosevelt a salary of $1,000,000 a year to act as the president of it."

The prospect of a reform of the House rules to prevent "smothering" bills in committee is said to be particularly bright. The regular leaders, including even Speaker Cannon himself, are in favor of a change, and the fact that they are exhibiting so much anxiety to further the present movement is generally regarded as indicating that the long fight for the reform had been won and the followers of "Uncle Joe" have come to the conclusion that it would be the part of wisdom to fall into line with the procession. So far has the movement advanced that it is said that if things work out as is now expected, the new rule, when reported by the committee, is likely to be adopted by a unanimous vote.

The announcement that at least four churches of different denominations in this vicinity have opened their doors to the Salvation Army for public services within the next month shows a remarkable change in religious sentiment towards the Salvationists. Hitherto they have received but little substantial support from the churches, but now there is a growing tendency towards a general recognition of their work on lines along which the churches themselves have not been able to make much progress. This changed sentiment is a part of the advance towards unity of effort among Christian workers, for one common purpose.

The Daily News in its issue of Thursday, May 19, contained a report of the theft of clothing from the Training Station. The account was accurate except in one particular. The name of the culprit was given incorrectly, which makes all the difference in the world to Mr. Max Rosenthal, whom the paper charged with the wrong-doing. The News would have been glad to make the correction, in justice to Mr. Rosenthal, if its attention had before been called to the error.

It is believed in Boston that the Grand Trunk railway is aiming to enter that city as well as Providence, and that as soon as the line in the latter is completed efforts will be made to find another outlet at Boston. The Hub is quite happy over the prospect.

Reno, Nev., which was willing to take up the prize fight, has recently acquired a quite unenviable reputation for the ease with which divorces are granted there. Perhaps it thinks a prize fight will add to its notoriety.

Boston is celebrating the Bunker Hill anniversary today, but Saturday Boston and every other place will be off the map, except New York, when the conquering hero returns to his own.

One by one President Taft's bills are receiving the approval of Congress. They are not just as he presented them, but carry out his recommendations, in principle if not in detail.

If the site of the present police station were open land, and had always been open, how many citizens would be in favor of putting any building there?

Arizona and New Mexico are nearer statehood today than ever before. The indications from Washington are that the bill will be passed within a few days.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Proposed Addition to Bristol Postoffice and Custom House.

Report of Districting Commission to be Filed Soon—Captain Harrington Retired.

The United States Senate Thursday passed the bill already passed by the House to pay Postmaster Caswell at Narragansett Pier $105 for money expended for extra clerk hire and the Senate bill appropriating $20,000 for a public building at Bristol. The $20,000 is for the erection of additional quarters for the federal departments at Bristol, including the postoffice and custom house. The plan is to erect an addition to the rear of the present building on Hope street, which will allow the installation of improved facilities for the transaction of business, as well as afford roomier accommodations for the employes in the two departments. The present federal building was erected two score years ago, and has been the scene of alterations and additions several times since then, the last having been about six years ago. For several years past, however, the workers in the postal department have been cramped for room. The understanding in Bristol is that a two-story addition, 35 by 40 feet, constructed of brick, after the pattern of the present structure, will be erected by the government, to afford room for expansion and facilitate the handling of mails. Various modern improvements such as are provided to offices of the third class will be installed.

The commission which is engaged in re-districting the state for the purpose of elections to the lower branch of the General Assembly has sent a letter to Representative James J. Nolan, Jr., of Providence, saying that the details of its work will be filed with Governor Pothier for the public's information as soon as complete. The letter was in reply to a request from Mr Nolan that the people might know the results of the work as early as possible. The commissioners worked hard Thursday on the drawing of the lines which will divide the cities and towns of the state into the 100 representative districts. The work is arduous and complicated, and great care must be exercised to have everything correct and at the same time take cognizance of a thousand and one little details which must necessarily enter into the preparation of the commission's report. The first drafting of the districting lines has not yet been sent to the printers, but it is now hoped that this may be done within a few days. When the proofs are returned the commission will go over the work almost literally inch by inch. It will probably be some time in July before the work is in such shape as to be filed at Governor Pothier's office in accordance with Mr. Nolan's request. After the drafting is completed by the several subcommittees in charge the work will go to the legal committee, which has quite a task before it.

An order placing Captain Walter E. Harrington on the retired list, upon his own application, has been issued from the office of the adjutant general. Captain Harrington's military record follows: March 3, 1891, enlisted in the Kentish Guards; May 10, 1892, appointed fifth sergeant; April 26, 1893, appointed second sergeant; April 25, 1894, commissioned captain; April 27, 1896, commissioned captain, Company G, United Train of Artillery, and served as such until April 26, 1899, when he resigned; on leave of absence in the United States volunteer service from May 5, 1898, to March 30, 1899; April 26, 1899, commissioned lieutenant colonel, Kentish Guards; April 24, 1901, commissioned colonel, and served as such until April 30, 1902. Service made continuous to August 21, 1902 (by act of General Assembly passed February 14, 1906), when he was commissioned captain, Company D, First Regiment of Infantry, R. I. L. M. (Brigade Rhode Island Militia changed to Rhode Island National Guard, under General Orders No 9, April 15, 1907, Company D, First Regiment of Infantry, R. I. N. G., changed to Fourth Company, Coast Artillery Corps, R. I. N. G., under General Orders No. 26, November 4, 1908.) Served as captain, Fourth company, coast artillery corps, R. I. N. G., until June 10, when he resigned.

Earle B. Cross, Ph. D., was ordained a Baptist minister at the Cranston Street Baptist Church in Providence Thursday evening in the presence of a large congregation, many of whom were relatives and friends of the young clergyman. The ordaining prayer was given by Rev. L. L. Henson, D. D., pastor of the church, and the hand of Christian fellowship was extended by Rev. Elijah A. Hanley, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The sermon was preached by Professor George Cross, D. D., of Newton Theological Seminary and the charge was delivered by Rev. F. G. McKeever, D. D. Rev. Earle B. Cross was born November 27, 1883, in Rangoon, Burmah, Asia. Both his father and grandfather were missionaries; the former is still in the service, while the latter died on the field after a half-century of missionary activity. At the age of 10 Dr. Cross came to the United States with his parents. He graduated in 1901 from the Providence Classical high school, where he not only held a good record for scholarship but also captained the track team two years. Dr. Cross is a member of the class of 1905 of Brown University. In college he was prominent in musical circles and interested in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association. In his Senior year he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Since his graduation Dr. Cross has been pursuing his studies at Newton Theological Institution at Newton Centre, Mass., from which institution he received the degree of bachelor of divinity last week. He was president of the student body at Newton and popular with his fellows. He has also been doing graduate work at Brown, besides his work at Newton, and received the degree of master of arts in 1907, and of doctor of philosophy in 1909. During the past term he has been instructor in Greek at Brown. Dr. Cross has accepted a call to the Central Avenue Baptist Church of Dover, N. H., and is to begin his work there soon.

Lewis T. Downes, founder of the Riverside Mills, the Hope and What Cheer Mutual Fire Insurance companies and one of the most prominent business men in Rhode Island, died at his home in Providence Thursday. Mr. Downes had been an invalid for several years and for the past three months had been confined to his bed. He had not been actively engaged in business for half a dozen years, but previous to that, in a long business career, introduced several now commonly used machines and methods of woolen manufacture into this country. His son, Louis W. Downes, is the inventor of the D and W fuse, now in use in the New York subway. Besides being a man of keen business sense and acumen, Mr. Downes was a well known figure in musical circles and was also at one time a member of the school committee in Providence. His death was caused by inflammation of the intestinal organs, and during the last few weeks of his illness he failed rapidly.

The American Band, with Bowen R. Church as leader, will leave Providence in a special car Saturday for a three months' tour of the West. Their first engagement will be at Cleveland, and other cities to be visited are Chicago, Denver and Pittsburg. Warren R. Fales is manager of the organization and its financial backer. The band has been making preparations for its Western trip for several months. It has been planned to re-establish the reputation of the organization, which under D. W. Reeves was known as the finest band in New England. Miss Anna Ellis Dexter of Boston accompanies the band as soprano soloist. The soloists of the band are Signor Taglialavoro, baritone; Signor DeSalle-Bombardone, late bandmaster of the United States navy on steamship Trenton; Signor Del Uriagio, cornet; Signor D'Amofria, bassoon; Signor Micenti alto horn, and Signor F. De Salle, clarinet, late of the Manhattan Opera House.

UNUSUAL PROBATE APPEAL.

Unfaithful Administration Alleged In Fitzgerald-Connell Case.

Another Matter Settled and Again No Work Ready for the Jurors to Perform.

Judge Lee held a broken session of the superior court this morning. What might once, possibly, have been called the unexpected, but has proved to be the rule at this session, again occurred. The jury case of Hilda Bergham vs. Edward W. Histed was found to be settled and jurors were excused to Tuesday morning. The other case, which required no jury, was not ready and a recess to 11 o'clock was taken.

The case of Bergham vs. Histed was a claim for the payment of board for a child of the plaintiff. Mr. Histed said he had nothing to do with the man's board and did not recognize that there was any legal claim against him, but rather than have the trouble of a trial he agreed to a settlement for about one half the amount claimed.

Bessie H. L. Riddell vs. Nathaniel B. Church et. al., has gone over to October 12. First Baptist Society vs. John H. Wetherell has also been continued to October.

The case for the day was the appeal of John H. Fitzgerald, administrator, vs. Elizabeth Connell, administrator, an unusual sort of probate appeal, taken from a decision of unfaithful administration. Messrs. Barney and Callaghan appeared for the appellant, Fitzgerald, and Messrs. Nolan and Hoehne for the other side. The appellant was administrator of the estate of Richard Fitzgerald, and Mrs Connell was administratrix of the estate of Edward J. Connell.

Mr. Barney said Mrs. Crowley, who testified in the lower court, had been taken suddenly with a contagious disease. A stenographer would give the evidence in the lower court. This was agreed to.

The probate court found the administrator of the Fitzgerald estate guilty of unfaithful administration for failing to pay a claim of the estate of Connell, Duncan A. Hazard, probate clerk, took the stand and read from the probate papers. The Fitzgerald estate was said not to exceed $1,700. Two of the three appraisers died and others were appointed in their stead. No inventory was ever filed. The claim is for cash loaned, $300; cash paid in taking up loan, $200; interest brought the claim to $557.56. This claim was never disallowed by the ... the estate was never represented to be insolvent, the claim was filed before the estate was settled so far as the probate court knew. This was the only claim filed, in the probate court. It was admitted that Connell died more than a year after the publication of administrator's notice to creditors; also that this claim has not been paid.

Here appellant rested.

The law says claims filed after a year shall be barred unless special cause is shown. The court said they must show unforeseen cause, or mistake to account for the delay.

Elizabeth M. Connell, administratrix, was called to the stand. She was asked if she talked with her late husband about a claim he had against the estate of Fitzgerald, but was not allowed to tell what it was. Mr. Nolan excepted. She said she found a check for $300 and a note for $200. Her husband was in Aiken, S. C., when the check was drawn. It was in favor of Fitzgerald and endorsed by him. The note was for six months, signed by Fitzgerald, and is marked paid to the Newport Trust Company. Witness filed her claim for these as soon as she was appointed administratrix. Before that they were in the hands of a lawyer to collect. The papers were found in her husband's private box. She knew there was some transaction between her husband and Fitzgerald.

William J. Williams testified that he had a conversation with Mr. Callaghan after Connell died. The court said this was admissible only in rebuttal. Mr. Callaghan could be called. Mr. Nolan said that would make Mr. Callaghan his witness, and then Mr. Callaghan could not be contradicted. The court insisted.

Mr. Callaghan was called. He said Mr. Fitzgerald was a clerk in his office. He had no conversation with Connell about collecting any claims against Fitzgerald, or about collecting any claim. Advised Connell not to pay the note, as he did not owe it. Knew nothing of the check. Never was attorney of Connell, or wrote for him to Fitzgerald, or tried, or promised, to collect these claims. Had many conversations with Fitzgerald about these claims. Knew Connell claimed the note was wrong. Was not a large note. Advised Connell not to pay it, but he did pay it. Connell was a great friend of Fitzgerald, clerk in witness's office. (The court gave notice that when he came to pass over his notes of the trial he should reject such parts as he considered irrelevant.)

Mr. Connell died, away from here. Shortly before he went, by request of witness, acting as John Fitzgerald's attorney, Connell came to witness's office. He said Richard Fitzgerald did not owe him anything; had no claim against the estate and did not intend to present it, as it would come out of Mary Fitzgerald. He did say he wanted from which Richard "left him." He owed more than a year after the notice to file claims against the Fitzgerald estate. The note was paid months after Fitzgerald died, and it does not bear Connell's name at all. Witness never heard Connell speak of the $300 check or the alleged loan of $300 to Fitzgerald. Connell said he had promised Richard to pay the note and he was going to do it. Witness asked him to present his claim for it if he had a claim; he presented no claim. Had endless talks with Connell. He said he knew Richard did not have any money.

Mary A. Kinsella, sister of John H. Richard Fitzgerald, testified. She said that immediately before Richard died he said: "See that (Connell) has $300 out of my insurance." Witness talked afterward with Connell, who said Richard did not owe $300; there was a note for $200 at the Aquidneck Bank, and some bills about town. Witness gave Connell money and he paid the bills. The note was also paid at the Aquidneck Bank. Nothing was said Connell then said Richard owed him nothing. Repeatedly said so.

Miss Fogils, stenographer, of Providence, took the stand with evidence of Annie A. Crowley, transcribed by her. It was used by consent, and read by Mr. Barney. She heard Connell tell Mrs. Kinsella: "Dick don't owe a cent."

John H. Fitzgerald, defendant of the estate, testified. He knew Connell well. There were four notes of ... Fitzgerald estate, outstanding. ... accounts at the banks as ... for them. Soon after Richard died Connell was in Boston and to witness said at first that ... nothing about the notes. ... he knew about the $200 ... Trust Company. He agreed ... never presented any ... the estate. Witness ... three notes, including ... Aquidneck Bank. The bank ... books pledged to secure the notes were in Richard's name. Only $10 of it was his; the rest belonged to witness (The court let this in "de bene"). The $10 was on a separate book.

Before the cross-examination the court ordered the noon recess, to 2 p. m., it being 12:25.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

Clark Burdick, administrator de bonis non on the estate of Frank Hammett, has sold to Martha G. Holcombe, for $1,375, a lot of land bounded north, 113 feet, on Wellington avenue; west, 110 feet, and north, 40 feet, on land of Judd; west again, 73 feet, on Marchant street; south, 114 feet, on land of Walsh; east, 77 feet, on land of McGough; south, 37 feet, on land of Judd, and east again on lands of Mahoney and Judd.

John S. Sanches and wife have sold to Antonio D. Correira, and he has sold back to them, the lot bounded west, 52 feet, on Homer street; north, 96 feet, and east, 52 feet, on land of William A. Armstrong, and south, 96 feet, on land of Thomas Perry.

Albert H. Sayer has sold to Carrie Hall Weir, wife of Frederick Weir, the estate bounded south, 50 feet, on Brooks avenue; west, 116 feet, and east, 116 feet, on lands of William G. Peckham, and north, 40 feet, on land formerly of William Andrews.

THE UMBRELLA CAME BACK.

One of these things which no one can explain happened today. Chief Manchester was in from Tiverton for trial of cases, and it was raining. He once owned a good umbrella, but lost it on a former trip to Newport and was going "easy" on rain protection. It was one of those days when naturally one would cling to an umbrella even if it belonged to some one else. There is where the strange part comes. Sheriff Anthony handed Chief Manchester his umbrella. He had found it and kept it through all the rains, and returned it to him at such an unexpected time. It seems almost needless to say that the sheriff had an umbrella of his own. The chief had not fully recovered when he took the car back.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

At the police station this morning three drunks were fined $2 and costs each, but the police did not find that they had any money with which to pay. A sailor was fined $5 and cost for indecent exposure, in front of the police station.

The police were after two young men Thursday, who took some fish from the boat of George E. Brayton at Long wharf. When they reached the deck of the Independent Ice Company, Officer Wilcox caught one of the lads who was this morning placed on probation. The other boy escaped, but was caught this morning. He is already on probation.

At the regular district court session one Tiverton man was found guilty of assault and fined $10 and costs, which he did not have, and another was discharged after a trial for assault. It was the same assault.

STILL RAINING, AND MORE PROMISED.

It still rains, though there does not seem to be any particular reason why it should, and the worst part of it is that more rain is promised. Thursday afternoon the base ball game was postponed, but about 40 minutes later old Jupiter Pluvius would have postponed that or any other game except diving. Down came the rain hard. Just as if it had not fallen before in a long time. At 11:45 today it looked as though the sun were coming out, and the wind shifted from southeast to northwest, but still it rains and more is promised.

According to the Water Works gauge the rainfall up to 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon it did seem that morning .57. Yet in half an hour Thursday afternoon it did seem that it rained more than half an inch of water.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Coast Survey steamer Bache coaled today at Pfaniger & Manchester's.

—Judge and Mrs. Sanford of Warwick, Orange county, New York, are here for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Pfaniger.

—Mrs. E. H. G. Slater, who has a cottage on the Cliffs, which she will occupy in a few days, has returned from Europe.

—A. O'D. Taylor, Jr., has rented for John H. Allolin his unfurnished cottage on Fowler avenue and Bliss road to George E. Martin.

—Mrs. Edward R. Thomas, owner of "Stoneacre," is at The Muenchinger-King and Cottages. Mrs. Thomas has not occupied her fine estate for several years.

—The school flags are flying, because this is Bunker Hill day. When the school flags are mentioned they do not include the flag of the Thayer school, which is not flying.

—Miss Wilkins and Miss C. A. Rice of the National Butter Company, Boston, are spending the day in Newport and included a visit to Manager Mansfield of the company's store here.

—Torpedo boat destroyers, Smith, Flusser, Lamson, Preston and Reid left Thursday evening for New York, to participate in the water parade in honor of the home-coming of ex-President Roosevelt.

—St. Joseph's parochial school will close its school year with graduation exercises next Wednesday evening. The St. Mary's parochial school will have its closing exercises next Thursday.

—Miss Marion Reynolds of Wickford is guests of Mrs. Victor Baxter.

—Rehearsals are now in progress of two sketches to be given for the benefit of the Calahad Club. Frank Bennett directing.

—Late arrivals at the Perry House include Dana P. Dow, Ipswich, Mass.; J. A. Gorman, Newark; John Hughes, Providence; F. B. Marshall, C. E. Schadt, Boston; R. H. Dewey, U. S. N., T. M. Rous, U. S. N., A. C. Hamilton, C. R. Martin, New York.

—Officer Coggeshall seems to have usurped the position of official stopper of runaway horses, formerly held by Professor Thomas Shields. He stopped another Thursday night. It was Leikens's horse and the scene of the runaway was down Touro street.

—The mackerel catchers are the chief attraction at Long wharf today. The buyers seem to be over the flurry of high prices and are offering only 20 and 21 cents for the fish, which are running big and handsome. Some of the skippers are shipping on commission and some are holding off.

—There was almost a vehicular catastrophe this morning, when a car-automobile collision took place on Broadway at Fowler avenue. C. A. Easterbrooks's delivery automobile had just turned from Fowler avenue into Broadway when the beach car struck it. It struck about at the rear axle, and the machine being light "aft," all the weight being forward, it was simply turned about and headed the other way. Apparently nothing serious happened to the automobile, though the chauffeur must have been somewhat frightened.

STRANDED ON A SAND BAR.

Apparently Not Damaged or In Danger, and the Passengers Taken Off.

Steamer Concord, of the new Colonial line between Providence and New York, stranded on a sand bar on the west side of Dutch Island at 9:40 o'clock Thursday night, while bound on her maiden voyage to New York. She struck while under full headway, but does not appear to be damaged and there is hope of floating her by the aid of tug Roger Williams at high tide this afternoon, in which case she is ordered to continue her trip. The vessel had a passenger list of 270, of whom 75 this morning continued their journey by rail, while the remainder are still on board, accepting the company's promise to land them in New York—a little delayed in transmission, as it were.

While the craft went on Thursday night it was impossible to take advantage of the morning tide to float her, for it was not until morning that it was possible to make known the plight of the vessel. At the morning tide an attempt was made to float her by the steamer's own engines, but this failed and yet one might say that only her nose has burrowed into the sand spit.

Captain Wilcox, who commands the steamer, stated to a News representative, the only newspaper man to board her until this afternoon, that they failed to make Plum Beach light, and when the bell at Dutch Island light was heard it appeared to sound from port. Believing they were just passing the lower end of Dutch Island they swung that way a trifle and the next instant the bow ran out on the sand. They had followed the Tennessee down the bay, but presumably somewhere in the vicinity of Plum Beach light lost her in the fog.

Naturally the shock of running on the shelving beach was sufficient to cause the passengers to imagine something had happened, but the water was calm and the officers were soon able to inform them that the ship was not making water, that they were in no danger and the shore was but a step or two away. This allayed any fears which may have been aroused, and while many perhaps did not know the vessel had grounded those who had been alarmed returned to their berths to rest until morning.

As soon as the passengers were made to feel comfortable Assistant Manager Clarence C. Dunbaugh, who was making the trip on the vessel, started to establish communication with the company's offices. Soldiers from Fort Greble were already coming on board by boats and their presence completely reassured the passengers. Their coming gave the agent a cue that he might telephone from the post, but when he landed there he found the telephone to the outside world was not working. Later, in one of the lifeboats of the steamer, he made his way through the fog to Saunderstown. There, too, he found telephone trouble, but after some hours succeeded in sending a message through.

Since it was determined almost immediately after the ship struck that she was in no danger, the usual signal of distress, four blasts, was not sounded and it was with surprise that the ferryboat crews on their first trips across the bay made out through the fog the lines of a large Sound steamer well up on the island shore.

The coming of daylight, the craft still being aground, caused restlessness among the passengers and a demand was made to be set on shore, that they might continue their journey to the metropolis. The demand was heard by Mr. Dunbaugh, who signalled the Narragansett on her regular trip. Coming alongside, he arranged for her to take to Saunderstown such of the passengers as desired, that they might take the trolley cars and connect with the trains. Forty responded to the call for all those who wished to go ashore, and were landed as arranged. This was about 7 o'clock.

Two hours later there was another great hue and cry and it seemed as if the whole passenger list was anxious to flee the ship as had been the case in the first instance. The Beaver T-1 was signalled and just 35 filed on board her to go to New York. While they were boarding the ferryboat a launch owner proposed a direct trip to Wickford. Twenty-five took advantage of this, passed through the ferryboat, dropped from her into the launch, and the last haste of the day to leave the ship was silenced.

About noon tug Roger Williams, with Captain Sutton at the wheel, hove in sight and was soon made fast to the steamer. Captain Sutton said things were not dad at all. He knew the sand bar well, for he has taken six other craft off it during his investigating on the bay, and the only thing which bothered him was the fact that the tides are not running very well just now.

While the steamer's bow is about six feet out of water there is 18 feet of water midships and 25 feet under her stern. The sideway gives her a little roll, but she rested on a perfectly even keel.

The Fort Greble submarine water main from Saunderstown had a narrow escape, for had the steamer gone ashore just a trifle farther north she would have severed this, as she is stranded just off the post's pumping station.

The passengers after they had made up their minds to take things easy so long as they found that there was plenty to eat on board the steamer and good beds in which to sleep, began to look around for things to amuse them. The soldiers from the fort were the great attraction, and the soldiers seemed equally interested in having so many callers so close to their island home.

There was not the talk among sea-

WHEN HE REACHES HOME.

Oyster Bay Ready for the Coming of Roosevelt and the Crowds.

OYSTER BAY, Long Island June 16. —Arrangements are complete for the celebration of the home-coming of Theodore Roosevelt next Saturday. Colonel Roosevelt will reach Oyster Bay on a special train, which is scheduled to arrive here at 2:30 p. m. Preparations have also been made to welcome the large crowd of visitors which will be present from all parts of Long Island to welcome the ex-President. United States District Attorney W. J. Young, who was Mr. Roosevelt's secretary when he was governor of the state, will deliver the address of welcome from the band stand in Townsend Park. The school children will march to the depot in a body, headed by the Oyster Bay band, and each child will be provided with a small American flag.

Supervisor Painter, who is chairman of the plan and scope committee, will make a short address, and will be followed by Thomas J. Gleason. The Italian colony will take part in the parade. The reception committee has chartered a special train to convey the ex-President's party from Long Island City to Oyster Bay. The committee has requested every business house and store in the village to decorate.

A PROVIDENCE WEDDING.

George B. Barker, Formerly of Middletown, Married to Miss Freer in St. John's Church.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ann Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freer of Providence and Mr. George Barlow Barker, formerly of Middletown, took place Thursday afternoon in St. John's Church, Providence. Rev. Harold L. S. Johns, curate of the church, officiating at the ceremony. Mr. Philip Mason Barker, brother of the bridegroom played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," as the bride entered, attended by her father, who gave her away. The bride wore a princess gown of white silk and carried a white prayer book. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms. Miss Marion S. Bosworth, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of light blue silk, with a light colored hat with trimmings of blue, and carried an arm bouquet of Enchantress carnations. Mr. Charles V. Sellers of Providence was best man.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride, for the bridal party and the parents of the bride and bridegroom. Later Mr. and Mrs. Barker left on a trip to the South. Mr. Barker is well known in musical circles in Providence.

CAPITAL MADE $53,000,000.

New England Navigation Company Files in Connecticut a Certificate of Its Action.

The New England Navigation Company has filed a certificate of its action in increasing its capital stock from $42,000,000 to $53,000,000. The company is one of the properties of the New Haven system and the increased capitalization is regarded as a step in the execution of the railroad's financial program.

The bride was attended by Miss ... of Providence and the groom by Mr. Daniel Chase of Middletown.

PINCHOT'S NEW PARTY.

Washington Buzzing With Comment Concerning It.

Insurgent Movement Subsiding—Possible New Attack on the Rules—Heyburn Insulted Again.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The talk of the hour continues to buzz about Gifford Pinchot's proposal of a new party. The return of Roosevelt heightens the excitement. Did Pinchot reflect the views of his former chief? Were his attacks on the tariff and his demands that the privileged interests get out of politics inspired by that famous forest interview in Europe from which he emerged with such a shining face? Was the hint of a "new party" only figurative or is it to become literal? What significance is there in the fact that James R. Garfield backed up this talk by one almost as radical and the further one that the Roosevelt club of St. Paul stood sponsor for both? These are the questions with which Washington is humming. Fortunately the answer need not be long deferred since Roosevelt is almost here and his first political utterance will clear the atmosphere. Even should the former President decline to follow the new political trail blazed by Pinchot, will the fired forester, Garfield, La Follette, Cummins, Dolliver and the other insurgents go without him?

On his return from attending the convention of "stalwart" Republicans in Wisconsin Vice President Sherman announced that the insurgent movement is subsiding. This recalls Attorney General Wickersham's similar statement after his Chicago speech of last winter. The insurgents in Congress naturally do not share this view. They claim to have won virtual victories in Iowa and South Dakota, say that La Follette will have little trouble in coming back from Wisconsin and point to the recent primaries in Dalzell's district and Dalzell's frantic seeking of an injunction to stop the recount, in which he was losing heavily, as evidences that their cause is invading the east. It is a situation pregnant with possibilities, and there is just one man that can make of those possibilities much or little. That man is Theodore Roosevelt. As to what he will do we know as little now as when he first emerged from Africa. In my own view, this very silence is significant. It is indicated that he will continue it for several weeks after reaching home. If he does, that will be still more significant.

There is a prospect that another attempt will be made to amend the House rules. Representative Hamilton Fish of New York wants to make it possible to take a bill out of the hands of the committee after it has been there 30 days. It is not yet known whether any attempt will be made during this session to deprive the Speaker of the appointment of standing committees, but it is probable that this matter will go over to a new Congress.

A report comes all the way from Michigan that the snub to Francis Burton Harrison is not the only one that President Taft has administered. When Taft spoke at Jackson he was introduced by Representative Townsend. Mr Townsend also presented other notables, but somehow fail d to see Senator Julius Caesar Burrows who sat on the platform with an expectant look on his face and an undelivered speech in his system. Now, Townsend is a candidate for the Senate against Burrows, although this may or may not have anything to do with the oversight. At any rate, Taft evidently thought it had, for he turned the tables by inviting Burrows to ride with him in his private car, but could not see Townsend.

There is occasionally a funny thing happens in the Senate. Recently Heyburn was cutting the air into jigsaw patterns in a characteristic way and after a long speech was evidently preparing to close, when Senator Cummins arose to ask a question. Senator Eugene Hale thereupon remarked sotto voce, but in tones loud enough to be heard over the chamber, "Oh, don't stir him up again." Heyburn resented the remark and said it was insolent. Hale admitted that it was insolent, but gave no indication of retracting it, whereupon there were audible smiles. Heyburn went up in the air and said he was prepared to resent the insult "in any way on earth," whereupon the smiles grew louder, Hale joining in the merriment.

On another day Senator Bailey had grown incensed at the treatment accorded Burton of Ohio, by the committee in charge of the rivers and harbors bill. So incensed was the Texas Senator that when the Senate shortly afterward went into executive session he held up a lot of nominations on the point of no quorum. It was then impossible to get a quorum, but Bailey refused to yield, remarking that he was "thoroughly angry."

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

St. George's School closed today for the summer. The boys have been returning to their homes throughout the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Farnum are entertaining for the week Miss May Easterbrooks of Bennington, Vt.

At a recent business meeting of St. Columba's Guild the date for the annual fair for the benefit of the Berkeley Memorial Chapel was appointed for Wednesday, August 17, at the parish house.

A special booth at the St. Mary's lawn fete will be devoted to shell moss and feather novelties from the East and West Indies; also peacock Abelone shells, with air plants, Japanese wind bells and Indian novelties from the Northwest Territory of Canada.

Owing to the rain the picnic of the Oliphant Reading Club, which was to have been held today with Miss Etta M. Sherman, has been postponed to July 8.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere,—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

HOW TO CURE ECZEMA, PIMPLES AND DANDRUFF.

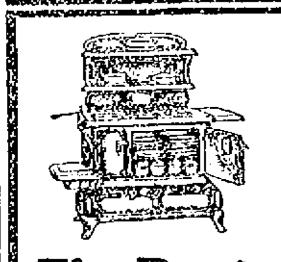

We desire to say that when we took the agency for ZEMO we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for Eczema, pimples and dandruff. Yet we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as ZEMO has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like ZEMO too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use.

ZEMO effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase, we give a booklet on skin diseases explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp disease by this clean, scientific remedy.

INTOLERABLE ITCHING

"Two years ago some form of humor appeared on my scalp. The beginning was a slight itching, but it grew steadily worse until, when I combed my hair, the scalp became raw. Most of the time there was an intolerable itching, in a painful, burning way. Combing my hair was positive torture. My hair was long and tangled terribly because of the blood and scabs. Over half my hair fell out and I was in despair, really afraid of becoming totally bald. After being asleep a short time, that awful stinging pain would commence and then I would wake up nearly wild with the torture. I now decided to order a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills. I used them for perhaps six weeks, then left off, as the disease seemed to be eradicated. But toward spring, eighteen months ago, there was a slight return of the scalp humor. I commenced the Cuticura treatment at once, so had very little trouble. Since then I have had no scalp trouble of any kind and had it not been for Cuticura I should doubtless be wholly bald. FOUR DROWNED AFTER MUTINY.

Seven of Chinese Crew Leap Overboard, and Three Captured

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—As British steamship Highland Monarch was proceeding down the Schuylkill river today, bound for Auckland, New Zealand, seven members of the Chinese crew leaped over board in an endeavor to escape. Four were drowned and the remaining three were captured. The drowning was the culmination of a mutiny which broke out last night among the 29 Chinamen because they had not been granted shore leave while the vessel was loading. The mutiny was suppressed at the time after a Chinaman had endeavored to stab the first mate.

This morning the Highland Monarch got under way with the Chinese in the stoke hold, firing the boilers. Suddenly, as the steamship was passing through the draw at Penrose ferry bridge, a dozen Chinamen appeared above deck and seven of them leaped overboard. Captain Woods, who was on the bridge, tooted the whistle, stopped the ship and ordered a crew to man a boat in the struggle for liberty the men had to fight the strong tide, and four of them sank before reaching shallow water. The other three just managed to reach shore and were taken to a police station.

ONE RELIGION NEEDED.

New Unifying Element Works for Realization of One Holy Church.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, June 17.—The non-sectarian character of the world's missionary conference was emphasized today by the reading of a letter from Mgr. Bonomelli, Catholic bishop of Cremona, Italy. The communication inviting the bishop to contribute a message to the conference explained that the gathering was merely a conference on how all Christians of every name may better understand each other and better combine to make Christ and His church known to all men." It was pointed out that the conference would not pass resolutions or take any definite action; it would not compromise convictions or sacrifice principles.

In his reply, addressed to Silas McBee of the Churchman, Bishop Bonomelli expressed his approval of the conference. "The most desirable and precious of human liberties," said the bishop, "religious liberty, may now be said to be a grand conquest of contemporary humanity, and it enables the various faiths to meet together. We are united in the profound conviction that a universal religion is necessary." The bishop declared that from the various churches and religious denominations arises a new unifying element, working for the realization of the one holy church.

The report of the commission on "Education in Relation to the Christianization of National Life" was presented by the chairman of the commission, the Bishop of Birmingham, and the vice chairman, Professor Edward C. Moore, D. D.

HOUSED AT NEW PALACE.

Emperor William Transacting Business in Spite of Hurt Knee.

POTSDAM, Germany, June 17.—Emperor William was housed at New Palace with his troublesome right knee today, but received visitors and transacted official business much as though nothing had occurred to hamper his movements. Inquirers at the palace were told that the affection of one of the tendons at the knee joint, officially stated to have been caused by over-exertion in the saddle, was taking its normal course.

Crown Prince Frederick William and the crown princess, with their children left today on an automobile trip to Kiel, where they will represent the emperor and empress during the yachting regatta week.

By way of minimizing popular anxiety concerning His Majesty's condition, it is pointed out that a dozen or more scouters, in consequence of their participation in yesterday's cavalry manoeuvres at Doeberitz, are today suffering from inflamed limbs much the same as is the emperor.

PAYMENT OF CITY BILLS.

which Mr. Albro said Superintendent Sweet said seemed to have no graves.

The bids for caring for and driving the city ambulance were opened. There were two, enclosed in one envelope. They were for $3 a trip or $700 a year for one year, or $3 a trip and $2,100 for three years, and were not signed. City Clerk Fullerton said they were left by Mr. Curtis. The board laid the bids on the table. Later Mr. Curtis dropped in and agreed that he had forgotten to sign the bids, and signed them. Then ensued a talk as to which was the cheaper for the city, the trip or yearly contract, and the matter was laid over until next week, to give time to learn what it has cost in the past.

The city engineer presented a plat of the Curran property on Golden Hill street, which showed the lines to be just where Mr. Curran has put up a fence. Mr. Olsen was there and said the old plats of the city show an open way to the south of the Curran property, into which his rear gate opened. In view of the fact that the board could not tell from the plat whether it was a plat of the Curran property as it is now fenced in or as it should be fenced in the matter was laid over for a week and the city engineer will be asked to explain his plat.

TROUBLE OVER DAVIS CUP.

English Lawn Tennis Association Disappointed at the Stand Taken by Americans.

Unpleasant complications between the English and American lawn tennis associations seem imminent. The English national governing body, while disposed to treat the subject with natural conservatism, does not take kindly to the fact that the Americans have failed to fulfill a promise to play the international cup preliminary tie matches in that country.

The current issue of the English official organ contains a copy of the letter from Dr. James Dwight, which supplemented his cable message stating that it would be impossible for the Americans to play in London. The letter follows:

"Dear Sirs: I beg to acknowlegde receipt of your cable asking for definite information as to the preliminary in the Davis Cup matches. I cabled you yesterday. Probably cannot get team for England. I am extremely sorry, but the double trip requires more time than some of our players can give. Moreover, we feel that we ought to be certain that we can send a fitting team to Australia, should we be so fortunate as to win from Great Britain. I fear, therefore, that we must meet you in Australia, if at all. Should we find that we cannot get the team for Australia, we shall notify you as early as possible. Believe me, with great regret, your truly,

"James Dwight."

Having played in this country twice, in 1908 at Boston and 1909 at Philadelphia, upon partial assurances that this year the Americans would meet them on English courts, the Britons are disappointed. In communicating upon the situation the official organ says:

"If America cannot send a team over here, it is to be presumed that they will ask us to send a team to America, and if we do not accede to their request then the preliminary tie will have to be played, if at all, in Australia, for by the rules of the competition the preliminary tie will have to be played in the country of the holders, unless the challenging nations can mutually agree upon some other venue. The possibility of our being able to raise a team to go to Australia is regarded, we believe, as remote, but after all, there is this much to be said, that there is no particular point in our putting a team in the field against the Americans for the preliminary tie unless we are prepared, in the event of our winning it, to raise a team for the challenge round, which must of necessity be played in Australia."

KELLIHER CONVICTED.

Equally Guilty With Coleman in Cambridge Bank Case.

BOSTON, June 16.—A further stage in the government's prosecution of those responsible for the wrecking of the National City Bank of Cambridge came this afternoon, when William J. Kelliher, a strapping man-about-town and called by his friends "Big Bill," was declared by a jury in the United States circuit court to be equally culpable with George W. Coleman, the $12-a-week bookkeeper, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced for the theft of $300,000 from the bank.

The jury's verdict of "guilty" was rendered four hours after it had taken the case for consideration. After its pronouncement United States District Attorney French moved and Judge Clarence Hale concurred in the raising of Kelliher's bail from $25,000 to $50,000. Unable to procure the greater bonds, Kelliher was taken to Charles Street jail for the night.

Francis J. Wood, a grocer, was arrested on a charge of perjury, after the verdict had been returned in the Kelliher case, the false swearing being alleged to have been committed while Wood was a witness in the trial just closed. It is alleged that Wood falsified as to a check for $260 which came into his hands after it had been sent by telegraph to George W. Coleman in Kansas City under the name of "George W. McTaggart." Wood stated that he received it from a Mrs. Taylor (not the friend of Coleman who appeared as a witness) and that when it was decided by the bank to be irregular, he lost the amount.

In his instruction to the jury Judge Hale said it was necessary to decide whether Kelliher knew that Coleman was taking from the bank the money with which they played faro together. He referred to the mythical aunt whom Kelliher's attorneys contended had been mentioned by Coleman as the source of his funds. Judge Hale mentioned also the fact that others of the "faro gang" disappeared after Kelliher's arrest. It is understood that the government now is seeking to locate at least one of these, alleged to be the prime mover in the gang's operations.

It is practically certain that Kelliher's counsel will appeal the case to the supreme court.

PAPER PRESIDENT INDICTED.

Charged With Bribery in Furnishing Material for Postal Cards.

Light in Weight. Holds Perfect Shape.

The L. & H. Sennett Straws are made for Summer wear, not just to keep the sun off. Though of an extremely light weight, they retain their shapes because of the L. & H. sizing and special drying and pressing process. Edges are carefully treated to prevent breaking down. The oval is so shaped as to make an easy and comfortable fit, so that an L. & H. stays on without binding the head. The silk trimmings and linings are those that appeal to the well-dressed man. The "Man who Cares" lays his hat down so that the L. & H. mark shows. Made in many proportions as to height of crown and width of brim, so that every well-dressed man can be suited.

Good Soap News for You, Madam!

This news is almost too good to be true. But we'll give you your money back if Naptha Cream Soap doesn't do all we say.

It has taken us twelve years to learn how to make this wonderful, wonderful soap.

It cleans anything—it cleans everything. It cleans the dirtiest clothes without any rubbing at all. In a flash it cleans floors, woodwork or dirty sinks. And it cleans filmy lace without harm.

It cannot harm hands, colors or fabrics. And it is quicker and easier than anything else.

Naptha Cream Soap

The secret of this surprising soap is in the way it uses the naptha.

Ordinary naptha soaps are in a hard cake filled with resin. The resin is bad for hands and for fabrics.

Naptha Cream Soap is a paste. It comes in a can. It has no resin. It carries four times as much naptha as any other soap. So it cleans four times as easily.

Think of the scrubbing and scouring and work that Naptha Cream Soap will save you.

Your Money Back

This soap is cheaper than others. A 10c can goes much further than two 5c cakes of common soap.

You can prove all this good news at our risk. Get a 10c can at your grocer's today. He will give you back your money if it isn't just as good as we say.

10c

Not Like Other Naptha Soaps. No Resin. No Acid. No Alkali.

Cleans Everything—Harms Nothing

Try This "RICHMOND" Suds-Maker Free

You simply turn the faucet and the "Richmond" Suds-Maker delivers thick, hot suds. It does not in any way interfere with the hot water faucet and can be easily attached to it. It gives you instead, two faucets—one for clean, hot water—the other for thick, hot suds.

Think of the dozens of ways this ingenious device will cut down the work in the kitchen! Learn what it means to save hundreds of steps every day—to always have thick, creamy soap suds on tap. The "Richmond" Suds Maker gives you any quantity of soap and water thoroughly mixed in scientific proportion—it is always ready to meet your instant needs. It puts an end to the drudgery of dish washing—simply place dishes, silver, glassware under its creamy suds for an instant, then just rinse and wipe. It puts an instant, automatic end to waste, to unsightly soap dishes, to the nuisance of using up the odds and ends of soap. Use any kind of soap.

Just call on the plumber whose name appears below and ask to see the "Richmond" Suds-Maker. He will let you take one home to try. Use it ten days—then if you think you can spare it, return it, for the trial places you under no obligation to buy. This is your chance to learn about the greatest convenience, money and time saver you can install in your kitchen. Call today.

STRANDED ON A SAND BAR.

farming men of the locality, usual when a craft goes ashore, suggesting shortcomings on the part of the officers for allowing the boat to come into its plight. It was recognized that the night was a bad one for the first running over the course. Captain Wilcox is an old and experienced mariner, well acquainted with the bay, but was obliged to run his courses from his data on other vessels. He would seem to make no positive charge that the Plum light bell was not ringing, but says that none about the pilot house heard it. When the Dutch Island bell was heard the sound waves seem to have been reflected in one of the ways peculiar to them, thus causing another confusion to lead them astray.

The Concord was the first boat to leave Providence on the new Colonial line between that city and New York and steamed away from her dock Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. There were about 300 passengers on board, all the available staterooms having been taken before noon. Of the passengers a large number were taking advantage of the company's reduced rate excursion to New York for the big reception to Theodore Roosevelt.

The Concord, which was to alternate with her sister ship, the Lexington, was commanded by Captain David L. Wilcox, who was assisted in the pilot house by First Pilot E. E. Huber and Second Pilot C. P. Crocker. The chief engineer was John Bergeson and the steward R. Spratley.

The Concord was built at Wilmington, Del., in 1891. She is 246 feet long, with a beam of 46 feet. Her crew numbered 52. Her triple expansion engines, which developed 1,700 indicated horsepower, drive her at the rate of 18 knots per hour.

Noon—Money on call, steady, at 2¾ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4¾ to 5½ per cent. The business of the morning in the stock market was at a low level of activity for the year. The price movement was correspondingly sluggish and uncertain. At noon prices were at a higher level than last night. St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and Republic Steel rose 2. and Wisconsin Central and National Lead 1. Toledo, St. Louis & Western lost 3. Bonds were irregular.

YACHT NOTES.

Captain Joe Smith arrived this morning from Wickford with Mr. E. J. Berwind's launch Truant, which is here for the season.

Steamer Success was hauled out Thursday at the shipyard and was towards lodge and Mr. Mason's house Lost Atheling was hauled out for her annual overhauling. The shipyard launch took out the Atheling's moorings and she will shortly be in commission, if the weather favors. Steam yacht Onondaga was launched this afternoon.

Mr. H. C. Hirst, Jr., and Captain Boyd have returned from New Haven with steam yacht Arrow, which Mr. Hirst recently purchased. The Arrow is a sister boat to Harvey Flint's Rat and will be raced regularly in the 18-foot class in the bay.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP NEARING AN END.

er President Roosevelt, homeward bound after more than a year from home, was 133 miles east of Ambrose Channel lightship at 6 o'clock this morning. As the steamer approaches New York the former President continues to receive invitations to deliver speeches. All these invitations will be declined by Colonel Roosevelt after his arrival.

With the exception of three occasions, Colonel Roosevelt has not met many of the passengers on the steamer. One of these occasions was at the services last Sunday. Tuesday he held a reception on deck and shook hands with some 300 of his fellow-voyagers. Yesterday he attended a lecture delivered by Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, and at its conclusion he spoke briefly.

Mr. Roosevelt spends most of his time dictating to his stenographer or walking the lower deck alone, wearing a gray suit and a slouch hat. The other passengers on the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria respect his desire for privacy. Mr. Roosevelt generally takes his breakfast in the dining saloon, but lunches and dines with his family in their private apartments. Mrs. Roosevelt and the former President's daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, keep to their cabins most of the time.

Captain Auser entertained the Roosevelts and the McGill McCormicks yesterday at dinner, at which there were elaborate decorations of flags and flowers.

If the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria maintains the speed indicated in the above despatch she should be off Sandy Hook at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. However, if the prevailing fog continues along the Long Island coast the steamer will probably be somewhat delayed.

SIXTY-SEVEN CORRALLED.

New York Detectives Making a General Round-Up of Crooks.

NEW YORK, June 17.—In the general round-up of crooks for the protection of the crowds present in the city for the Roosevelt reception detectives corralled 67 in the borough of Manhattan. All these were taken to police headquarters during the night and morning.

Police Commissioner Baker had a conference with the police magistrates, and it was agreed that all known pickpockets and other criminals taken before the magistrates will, on proper identification, be held as suspected persons for 48 hours. The detectives say that pickpockets and other professional crooks were given the tip that there was to be a general roundup, and many of them have gone over to New Jersey temporarily, or have remained under cover.

MOODY GIVEN FIVE MONTHS.

Taft Has No Intention of Considering His Successor This Session.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The administration does not expect any immediate word from Justice Moody of the Supreme Court, who, in bills pending in Congress, is given five months in which he may retire. That limit of time was made in the hope and possibility that the justice will not find it necessary to give up, but will recover sufficiently to return to duty by the beginning of the next term of court.

The realization of the fact that Congress has made provision for him, it was hoped, might assist him in getting better. Even if he does not improve, the justice will have the satisfaction of knowing that he will be provided for in his continued ill health.

Such being the case, the President, it is said, has not the remotest idea of considering the question of a successor to Mr. Moody during the present session of the Senate. Should Justice Moody retire before Congress re-assembles the President will not fill the vacancy, but will wait until that body re-convenes. The President has announced heretofore that he never would appoint any one to a place on the supreme bench during a recess of Congress.

The Standard Oil and the American Tobacco cases are assigned for rehearing early in November. The court wishes them argued before a full bench, and it was said today that there would be no difficulty in securing a postponement.

IN A DANGEROUS PLACE.

Cruiser Dixie Anchored Where She is in the Way of Steamers Leaving the Harbor.

From some things heard from the harbor there are indications that a collision is due about any of these foggy nights if cruiser Dixie continues to remain at her present anchorage. Three times since she has been there the New York boat has been heard to whistle for full speed astern and ferryboats Newport and Connecticut have been compelled to do some lively hustling to keep out of her way as they trailed behind in her wake. On a recent night a navy launch became mixed up in the confusion and almost went under the Commonwealth's guard.

The Dixie is directly in the course of the Fall River liners when taking their departure from the Breakwater light and dangerously close to the regular course of the ferry steamers. About any night for nearly a week one may have noticed a good deal of whistling just after the New York boat has left her dock, when the big liners have suddenly seized the Dixie dead ahead, and then gone astern and nearly bowled down one of the ferry steamers.

A SPANISH WAR VETERAN.

Death of Chief Boatswain's Mate Pederson (Retired) at the Naval Hospital.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Ingvol Hans Pederson, U. S. N., (retired), died early Thursday evening at the naval hospital at Coasters' Harbor Island, after an illness of a little more than a week. He was a native of Sweden and had served in the United States navy 30 years. His last duty was at the Naval Training Station here and he was retired in July, 1908. Since his retirement he had lived in Newport, intending eventually to make his home in Chicago, where a sister resides. He had relatives also in New York.

Mr. Pederson served on cruiser New York during the war with Spain, taking part in the Cuban blockade, and is credited with having sighted the gun which sank the Spanish torpedo boat making a dash against the fleet off Santiago. He was a member of Charles M. Thomas Camp, Spanish War Veterans, of this city, which will attend the funeral from the naval hospital Saturday afternoon.

JAMESTOWN.

Work on Narragansett Avenue and the Water Main Hindered by the Rainy Weather.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Work on Narragansett avenue and on the water main, at the north reservoir, have been at a standstill for the past two days, owing to rain. This is unfortunate not only to the men employed, but both jobs should be completed as soon as possible, for the good of the town. In its present condition Narragansett avenue is in bad shape for automobilists crossing the ferries and by a few days the number will greatly increase.

Mr. W. H. Potts and family of New York have arrived at Horgan cottage No. 8, for the summer.

Mrs. Clarence F. Clarke and her son of Newark, N. J., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Clarke, on Narragansett avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Rice of Boston are at their cottage on the Dumplings for the season.

Rev. L. H. Holt and wife of Oklahoma, who came east to attend the graduation of their son, Mr. G. H. Holt, at Newton Centre Seminary, are at the Douglass cottage, on Narragansett for a few weeks.

THE OLD CITY HALL SITE.

Its Selection for the New Police Station Would Kill Three or Four Birds with One Stone.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

In thinking of sites for the new police station (and it is certainly to be hoped the city will not make the colossal blunder of not selecting some new site, and will co-operate with the ferry company, which is willing to clear away its buildings and make an addition to the government lawn), it has been suggested that Washington square is now very central, and the Old City Hall has been mentioned. Is this not a good time to make some decision about the future of this old landmark?

The recent smash on Thames street, when the irresistible fire apparatus met the immovable vehicle at the part of the street which is so narrow that the police should not allow any vehicle to stand there, makes one wonder why such accidents have not been more frequent, and ask when that "widening" is going to materialize. Then, too, Long Wharf started to be improved and straightened, some time ago. The sidewalk was cut back nearly to the old buildings, and a broad walk that ends humiliatingly in "butting up against the wall" was made farther down the wharf. All this points to something, some day; why not now?

The city needs a site. It is pointed out that sites can easily be had for $5,000. Here is a chance to get a site cheap, and kill three or four "birds with one stone." That corner is needed, for public use. A slice of it should go to widen Thames street; another slice should go to widen Long wharf. The railroad company might build a new station, extending from the present one to Long wharf, if the city would improve the Thames street end of the wharf as it should. Now, if the land is taken to widen, both ways, at the corner of Thames street, what becomes of the old landmark?

Right here comes the question: Is it worth preserving? We are told that the new police station should be of good architecture—and that is true. We are also informed that the Old City Hall is a classic in architecture. If this be so, what better style of architecture than that of the period when this building was designed could Newport have? If this building were made into a police station, it would not give those who may not be suited with the plans now selected any occasion to seek other new ones.

Land west and south of the corner ought to be obtainable at a moderate price. I suppose there would be no trouble to move the old building, and with the widening thus started it might have more likelihood of progressing. It seems to me that all the space now covered by the old building might well be taken for sidewalks and grass, after what is needed for the roadbeds is taken, and that the building might be moved west and south, to land to be bought for that purpose, extending from Long wharf to "Whittier avenue," enough land being obtained to allow for any additions to the old building that might be needed, and which could be made in the same style of architecture. There are few neighbors in that locality to object, old rattle-trap buildings would be gotten rid of, and if the station is to be located anywhere west of Thames street, why would this not be a good idea?

HER INJURIES SLIGHT.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe Sustains a Fall But Her Condition in No Way Serious.

Considerable concern was felt among the friends of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe Thursday because of a rumor current in Boston that she had sustained a fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Elliott, in that city, which resulted in painful injuries. By some it was said, that her arm had been broken.

Dr. Farrar Cobb, who attended Mrs. Howe, said Thursday night that she had not broken her arm and her injuries were nothing more than a few slight bruises, from which she will be recovered in a week or ten days. He said the accident happened last Tuesday, and that while going about the house Mrs. Howe tripped and fell against a piece of furniture. Dr. Cobb said that, even considering Mrs. Howe's advanced age of 91 years, her injuries could not be considered serious.

BIJOU ATTRACTIONS.

The Bijou has some noticeable attractions. The pictures illustrating Ned Nicholson's solo, "Blue Feather," are handsome and striking. The views in Berlin are interesting and instructive; they are a novelty, in that the people move deliberately. The picture of the messenger boy magician are both ludicrous and puzzling.

Those who like to hear cornet playing by one who can play will appreciate the solos by Mr. Gustav Heim, a well known member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, who comes here to play at the Casino, summers. He was formerly cornet and fluegelhorn soloist in the Ninety-fifth regiment of [illegible] Thuringen, and for two years played first "trumpet" in the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Karl Muck, director, and Mr. Heim were engaged for the Boston Symphony Orchestra at the same time, Mr. Heim being first "trumpet." He now has an engagement to play solos at a reception to be given to ex-President Roosevelt in Boston by the Algonquin club. Mr. Heim is on a three-day engagement at the Bijou. He has a noticeably beautiful tone and has a remarkable reach into very high and very low notes.

MISS WARING'S PLAN.

Not to Interfere With Any Social Work Done or Contemplated by Other Organizations.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

A New York clergyman, at the head of a great institutional work in his city, said to a Boston audience the other day:

"A little boy was found shivering on the roof of a tenement, with a poor little fiddle. It was the only place that he could practice without having something thrown at him. We brought that boy into the parish house, and the conductor of the music in that house has taught that boy to play, and he is on his way to Europe to receive a fuller education. And some day you will be paying dollars upon dollars to get into Symphony hall to hear that boy play. We have found girls there with marked dramatic talent. We have found others with artistic tastes. We have found others who can write poetry * * *

"There is treasure there. Yes, much of the treasure of the future citizenship lies east of Third Avenue. There is the poetry, there is the art, there is the music and there is the future; and out of those poor, wretched tenements are coming those who are to lead us in the future, while those who have everything will, many of them, be cast out. It has always been so, and it will be so again."

Such is the kind of work in its degree that Miss Waring is trying to interest people in, in one city, with indifferent success. Her plan is not intended to interfere with any social work already done or contemplated by any church or other organization. It is to establish a centre where may drift the boys of a class not otherwise gathered, among whom may be found the "treasure of the future citizenship." It is meant to reach boys whose school age is over, who have no wish or ability to enter the high school or go to college, who find nothing to do but cheap employment or dangerous employment, and cannot develop what is in them naturally for higher and better things. The purpose is to discover talent that is latent and has no chance to show itself, and never will without encouragement and sympathetic interest. This is one important side of a neighborhood centre apart from a place of evening entertainment, club versus saloon. Its main intention is to direct vagrant abilities away from vice and crime into industrial activities.

ISTALENA A WINNER.

New Herreshoff Sloop Shima Makes Its First Appearance in New York Yacht Club Race.

Foggy weather and light airs were met in the New York Yacht Club's regatta for the Spring Cups, Thursday afternoon on the Sound off Glen Cove. There were 14 starters, and although the weather was not favorable much interest was manifested among the various classes.

In the race for the 65-footers sloop Istalena, owned and sailed by Mr. George M. Pynchon, proved the winner by nearly four minutes, the Aurora, owned by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, and sailed by Mr. W. Butler Duncan, Jr., finishing second, and the Winsome, Mr. Henry F. Lippitt, crossing the finishing mark 2 minutes and 51 seconds astern of the Aurora.

A particular feature of the race was the first appearance of the new Herreshoff racing sloop Shima, which was recently built for Mr. Morton F. Plant. She went to the starting line looking fit to go in any kind of weather, but she was beaten by the Avenger, Mr. Harry L. Maxwell's yacht, by 9 minutes and 5 seconds. The winner sailed like a witch and the new Herreshoff craft never got close enough to the Avenger to put the race in doubt. The latter went over the starting line nearly abeam of the Shima, but in the light breeze Mr. Maxwell's sloop gradually opened up a gap that seemed too much for the Shima to overcome.

The hull of the Shima is painted a bright green. She was admirably handled by Mr. Addison G. Hanan, and on account of her sails having been bent a short time before the race her mainsail did not fit as well as it will later after the yacht has been tuned up. She is a likely looking craft, and the opinion was expressed by the regatta committee that she will give a good account of herself after she has been in a few races.

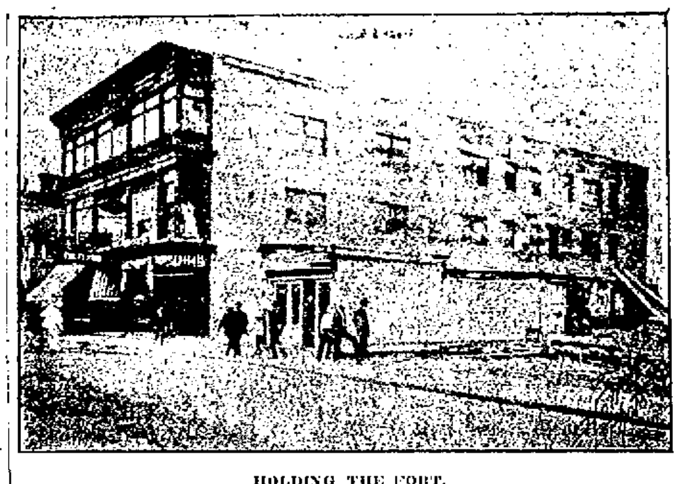

THE NEW FILTERS.

Plant in Operation, Doing the Work Well and Soon to be Turned Over to the Water Company.

It is expected that in another week the filtration plant which has been in process of building for about a year at the Easton's Pond pumping station will be turned over to the water company by the contractors. For weeks the plant has been in operation and the water has been washing through the mains of the city. It will take some time for these mains to be cleaned by the aid of the purer water, and users in the city have not noted the change from the filter going into action. That the filter is doing its work is assured by the announcement that it is about ready to turn over.

The contract for its installation calls for a clearing of the color of the water and a removal of bacteria. It is reported that both are being done to a material extent beyond the requirements of the contract. Experts are now in charge, instructing the local force in its handling and making daily tests of the water after it has gone through the process. More than 6,000,000 gallons a day are being handled, which gives an idea of the enormous quantity of water used in Newport, a city which has no manufactories to consume it, these being the heavy users in most places.

PAYMENT OF CITY BILLS.

Treasurer's Proposed Change Goes Over for One Week.

Action on Bids for Care of Ambulance and Golden Hill Street Matter Also Postponed.

The Board of Aldermen held its weekly meeting Thursday evening, and besides doing other business granted junk gatherers' licenses to Joe and Nathan Dannin.

The weekly pay rolls were approved as follows: Streets and highways, $1,939.19; police, $754.67; fire department, $430.48; city officers, $235.04; public buildings, $11.54; firemen in theatres, $36.

Bills of M. F. Sullivan, for carting crushed stone, $112.97, and N. Friedman, for services at the Jewish Synagogue, were approved just as though the board knew what they were for.

A resolution was presented from the city treasurer and read. It provided that bills against the city should be presented to the department which contracted them on or before the Saturday preceding the first Monday in each month, and that such bills when approved be paid by the city treasurer on the fifteenth of each month unless that day is a legal holiday or Sunday, in which case they are to be paid on the following day. Mayor Boyle asked why the change was desired and City Clerk Fullerton said the city treasurer found that under the new municipal accounts system it would take more time to be ready to pay the bills. The mayor could not see why creditors should wait for their money so long. As the rest of the board did not know, Alderman Mahoney suggested that the resolution lie over until next week, to give the city treasurer opportunity to explain. This was done.

Petitions of J. R. Pereira and others, for a gas light, Welsbach style, in front of his house on Garfield street, and of A. L. Trowbridge and others, for a Welsbach light on Peckham avenue, were referred to Alderman Shepley to report. This was done regardless of the fact that the Representative Council had not appropriated anything for additional lights for this year.

Fred G. Farmer was granted a license for three bowling alleys. Nathan and Joe Dannin were granted licenses as junk gatherers and several licenses for the sale of fireworks were granted. The application of Mary Nissick for a peddler's license was laid on the table.

A resolution was passed giving Ann M. Champlin a lot in the Old cemetery.

PETITIONS AND BILLS.

Congressman Sheffield Appears Before House Committee in Interest of Conservation Act.

Senator Wetmore has presented in the United States Senate the petition of Cumberland Lodge, No. 1, Cumberland Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of America, favoring the passage of the bill to admit to the mails as second-class matter publications of benevolent and fraternal societies. He has also filed a petition of the Rhode Island State Federation of Women's Clubs praying for the passage of the so-called parcels post bill.

Representative Sheffield has introduced in the House a bill granting an increase of pension from $12 to $24 per month to Jane M. Drown, Providence, widow of Samuel W. Drown, late of Company B, Thirty-fifth New Jersey volunteer Infantry.

Mr. Sheffield was one of the New England Representatives who appeared before the House committee on rules and asked for a special rule for the consideration of the bill of Representative Weeks of Massachusetts enabling any state to co-operate with any other state or states or with the United States for the protection of the watersheds of navigable streams and for the creation of a commission to acquire lands for the purpose of conserving the navigability of navigable streams.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

FRED W. GREENE, AUCTIONEER.
1 Broadway, Newport.

Commissioner's Sale.

BY VIRTUE of the authority in me vested by a decree of the Superior Court of the State of Rhode Island, in that cause in equity entitled Charles S. Bush, et. al. against Edwin A. Bush, et al., No. 1212, the undersigned will sell at public auction on the premises on TUESDAY, JULY 12th, 1910, at 12 o'clock noon.

I. That certain lot or parcel of land situated in the City of Newport at the Northeast corner of West Broadway and Edward Street, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at said corner, thence extending in a northwesterly direction along the easterly line of Edward Street, 106 feet more or less, to land now or formerly of Charles E. Peckham and John Nelson, thence turning and extending in a northeasterly direction, bounding northwesterly on land of said Peckham and Nelson 60 feet more or less to other land of the estate of Joseph L. Bush, thence turning and extending in a southeasterly direction, bounding northeasterly on other land of the estate of Joseph L. Bush 74 feet, more or less, to the northwesterly line of West Broadway, thence turning and extending in a southwesterly direction, bounding southeasterly on said West Broadway 67 feet, more or less, to the point or place of beginning, and contains by estimation about 7,364 sq. ft. of land. Or however, otherwise described, is that same parcel of land described in that deed of a half interest therein from John Dunn to Thomas Bush dated February 8th, 1816, and recorded in the City Clerk's office in Newport in book 13 at page 152.

II. A certain lot or parcel of land situate on the northwesterly side of West Broadway in the City of Newport, bounded and described as follows, to wit:—Beginning at the southerly corner of said lot, thence extending in a Northwesterly direction, bounding Westerly and northwesterly on other land of the Estate of Joseph L. Bush, and land now or formerly of Charles E. Peckham and John Nelson, and land now or formerly of George A. Weaver, and land now or formerly of Peter F. Clark, 229 feet 10 inches, more or less, thence turning and extending in a northeasterly direction, bounding northwesterly on land of Timothy Tierney, 41 feet 9 inches, thence turning and extending in a southeasterly direction, bounding southeasterly on land now or formerly of Carolina Pasqualetti, and land now or formerly of Daniel and Johanna O'Brien, and other land of the estate of Joseph L. Bush, 215 feet 6 inches, more or less, to the Northwesterly line of West Broadway, thence turning and running in a westerly direction, bounding southeasterly on West Broadway, 70 feet more or less, to the point or place of beginning. Said lot contains 10,575 sq. ft. of land, more or less, and however otherwise described, it is the same parcel described in that deed of a half interest therein from George A. Simmons to John T. Bush, dated January 21st, 1865, and recorded in the City Clerk's Office in said Newport in Book 37, page 212.

III. A certain lot or parcel of land situate in the city of Newport on the northwesterly side of West Broadway, bounded and described as follows. Beginning at the Southerly corner of said lot, thence extending in a northerly direction, bounding northwesterly on other land of the estate of Joseph L. Bush, 116 feet 9 inches to the land now or formerly of Daniel and Johanna O'Brien, thence turning and extending in a northeasterly direction, bounding northwesterly on said land of Daniel and Johanna O'Brien, 50 feet to the westerly side of Tilden Avenue, thence turning and extending in a southeasterly direction, bounding northeasterly on said Tilden Avenue, to the northwest line of West Broadway, 118 feet 9 inches, thence turning and extending in a northwesterly direction bounding southeasterly on West Broadway 58 feet 9 inches more or less, to the point or place of beginning. Said lot contains 6,882 sq. ft. of land, and however otherwise bounded and described, is that lot of land described in a certain deed from Wm. H. Simmons et al. to John T. Bush, dated October 25th, 1869, and recorded in the city clerk's office in Newport in Book 41 at page 709.

The undersigned will also sell at public auction on the premises on Tuesday, July 12, 1910 at 11 A. M.

IV. A certain lot or parcel of land with all the buildings and improvements thereon standing, on the Northwesterly side of Broadway in the City of Newport, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Southerly corner of said lot, thence extending in a northwesterly direction, bounding Westerly on land now or formerly of Mary H. Horgan, 150 feet 6 inches to land of Patrick H Horgan, thence turning and extending in a northeasterly direction, bounding northwesterly on land now or formerly of Patrick H. Horgan, 36 feet to other land of the estate of Joseph L. Bush; thence turning and extending in a southeasterly direction, bounding easterly on other land of the Estate of Joseph L. Bush and land now or formerly of Frank H. Holt and Mary S. Langdon, 150 feet 6 inches to the northwest line of Broadway; thence turning and extending in a southwesterly direction 34 feet, bounding southeasterly on Broadway, to the point or place of beginning. Said lot contains by estimation, 5,306 square feet of land.

Also one other lot of land adjoining the above described lot, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Southerly corner of said lot, thence extending in a northwesterly direction, bounding westerly on other land of the Estate of Joseph L. Bush, 12 feet, 6 inches, thence turning and extending in a northeasterly direction, bounding northwesterly on land now or formerly of Patrick H. Horgan, 36 feet to the westerly line of Oak Street; thence turning and extending in a southeasterly direction, bounding on Oak Street, 12 feet, 6 inches to land now or formerly of Frank H. Holt and Mary S. Langdon, thence turning and extending in a southwesterly direction, bounding southeasterly on land now or formerly of Frank H. Holt and Mary S. Langdon, 36 feet to the point or place of beginning. Said lot contains by estimation 432 square feet of land.

Said lots of land are the same described in that deed from Joshua Tripp to John T. Bush, dated June 11, 1850, and recorded in book 28, page 203, on record in the City Clerk's Office in said Newport.

The undersigned will also sell at public auction on the premises on Tuesday, July 12, 1910, at 3 P. M.

V. A certain lot or parcel of land situate in the City of Newport on the northeast side of Mann Avenue and extending back therefrom to Ayrault Street, bounded on the northwest by land now or formerly of The Barker Realty and Building Company and land now or formerly of Charles E. Peckham, and bounded on the southeast by land now or formerly of Nellie Bigalki and two parcels of land belonging to the Estate of Joseph L. Bush.

Said lot contains 42,018 square feet of land, and is lot 72 on tax assessors plat No. 21 on file in the office of the Tax Assessors in the City of Newport.

VI. A certain parcel of land situate in said Newport bounded northerly on land of Estate of Joseph L. Bush about 70 feet, easterly on land formerly of C. Nichols Beach 40 feet, southerly on land now or formerly of Nellie Bigalki about 70 feet and westerly on other land of Estate of Joseph L. Bush about 40 feet.

Said lot contains about 2,800 square feet of land, and is the same parcel of land conveyed to John T. Bush by Elizabeth S. Taylor by deed dated September 3, 1853, and recorded in the office of the City Clerk in Newport in book 50 at page 573.

VII. A certain lot or parcel of land situate on Ayrault Street in the City of Newport, bounded and described as follows: northeasterly on Ayrault street 69 feet 9 inches; southeasterly on land now or formerly of C. Nichols Beach 94 feet 5 inches, southwesterly on land of Estate of Joseph L. Bush 69 feet 9 inches, and northwesterly on other land of the Estate of Joseph L. Bush 95 feet.

Said lot contains about 6,605 square feet of land, and is the same premises described in a deed from Augustus Bush to John T. Bush dated July 7, 1853, and recorded in the office of the City Clerk in Newport in Book 31, page 36.

By virtue of the above authority, the undersigned will also sell at public auction on the premises on WEDNESDAY, JULY 13th, 1910, at 11 o'clock A. M.

VIII. A certain lot of land situate partly in the City of Newport and partly in the Town of Middletown, containing by estimation about 5½ acres more or less, bounded on the North by Vernon Avenue, on the West by land of the Old Colony Street Railway Company, on the South by land now or formerly of Perry W. Freeborn and Philip Caswell Jr., and on the East by land now or formerly of William C. Cozzens.

Said lot is known as the Borden lot, and is the same land described in that deed from Thomas R. Bush to John T. Bush dated April 17, 1865, and recorded in the office of the City Clerk in Newport in book 40, page 492.

Power is given said commissioner to adjourn such sale from time to time. Terms, 10 per cent down at time of sale; balance within three days after purchaser is notified that deed is ready for delivery.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION

Wednesday, June 22,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON.

I Will Sell at Public Auction Seven Cottage Houses, situated on Hall Avenue and Prescott Place.

Five of these houses contain six rooms each; the other two, five rooms each. They are all provided with city water, gas, toilets and concrete cellars. To an investor it means an income of from ten to twelve per cent. To the poor man with only a few hundred dollars in cash, it means a saving of more than one hundred dollars a year in house rent. The houses are all in good condition, no money needed for repairs, and all rented at the present time to tenants that pay the rent. The conditions will be announced at time of sale.

A plat of the property may be seen by calling at my office, 1 Broadway.

If stormy, next fair day.

FRED W. GREENE, Auct'r.
